88th Year—183

Draft Numbers Are Assigned To Two Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — No. 1 in today's draft lottery of men turning 19 years old this year was assigned to men born on Dec. 4, making them first in line for call-up next year.

No. 2 went to those born Jan. 25.

The low numbers in this year's draft lottery were slow in falling with No. 1 coming on the 310th draw of capsules from the two plexiglass drums. No. 2 was drawn on the 209th pluck.

With the size of draft calls dropping, under the call-up expected next year—assuming Congress passes legislation to extend the President's authority to resume drafting men—men are not expected to be called beyond the No. 190 limit set for this year. Most officials expect it to be far lower.

There were 366 numbers in the yellow capsules and the Leap Year baby born Feb. 29, 1952 drew a safe 305.

Those born on Christmas Day got a medium No. 135 but those born on New Year's Day had 207. Men born on Independence Day, July 4, were assigned 142.

The highest number was assigned to men born on Nov. 1.

The first numbers were drawn by two of six youth advisers to the Selective Service System, J. Brewster Bede of Morton, Wash., age 22, and Valerie Van Buren of Washington, D.C.

The matching of numbers and birthdates started after the plexiglass drums holding the capsules had been rotated to mix them up for half an hour.

Curtis W. Tarr, draft director, came from a sick bed to open the ceremonies and say that the chances of these young men being drafted next year are growing slimmer as the military manpower needs go down.

The draft law expired June 30 and Congress is not expected to pass a new one until after it takes a summer vacation ending Sept. 8.

Of the nearly two million men born in 1952, only a fraction can expect to be drafted. The Pentagon has estimated it will need 114,000 draftees in the fiscal year that ends next June 30, and the winding down of the Vietnam war has steadily reduced draft calls.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr, ailing with the flu, underscored that in a statement sent to be read at the start of the drawing.

"Over this past year, draft calls have been significantly lower than in the past," he said. "In 1972, the year in

Local Man Killed In LA Accident

Robert E. Owens, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Owens, Route 2, was killed Aug. 1 in a fiery traffic accident in Los Angeles, Calif.

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff learned of the death at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday. Owens' body was identified positively today.

Sheriff Radcliff said the Los Angeles Police reported that a car Owens was driving was struck in the rear while traveling on the Santa Monica Freeway at LaBrea.

The car exploded and caught fire. Owens' body was burned beyond recognition.

IT was through the efforts of a lady from whom Owens had recently rented a room that Owens was identified. A Mrs. Obreig rented a room to Owens

July 31, but told him it was not yet ready to be occupied.

He left his luggage and never returned. Mrs. Obreig read of the flaming accident the next day. When her roomer did not return, she began checking with the Los Angeles police and discovered the license number of the wrecked car was the same as that of her roomer.

She checked through his luggage and discovered a name and address of a person named William Parkinson of San Francisco, a friend, who was to be notified in case of an emergency.

She tried to contact Parkinson, only to find he was on vacation. Parkinson was finally located in Atlas, Pa., by his relatives. Remembering the recent death of a brother of Owens, Parkinson contacted

Toothpastes May Cause Gum-Swelling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brushing with some commercial toothpastes may brighten your sex appeal, but what if it hurts to smile?

Several popular brands may cause painful soreness and swelling of the gums, according to an unpublished Pentagon study released today by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I.

The condition, known as gingiva stomatitis, was found among users of Colgate, Crest, McLean's, Plus White, Ultra-Brite, Vite and Gleem.

Colgate-Palmolive Co. issued a statement questioning the scientific validity of the study, and Sen. Pell himself conceded it may not be conclusive. "But I believe the American consumer deserves to be informed completely on the findings of tax-supported consumer research," Pell said.

Researchers for the Army Institute of Dental Research conclude that clinical and laboratory findings "indicate strongly that some commercially available dentifrices may cause painful gingival responses in the user."

The conclusion is based on two clinical surveys involving a total of 1,057 patients and laboratory tests with 30 hamsters.

Compromise Draft Bill Clears House

Month-Long Recess Of Senate Will Block Enactment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he won't aid a filibuster against the House-passed compromise bill to extend the draft. But backers concede the bill can't become law for at least a month.

Passed by the House Wednesday 297 to 108, the measure contains a $2.4-billion-a-year military pay raise and a compromise provision urging President Nixon to negotiate a final date for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Indochina.

The war-pullout measure was the first such language ever approved by the House, which earlier voted down a stronger proposal made by Mansfield and passed by the Senate. A house — Senate conference worked out the compromise, which doesn't please Mansfield and other Senate doves.

Mansfield said in an interview he may revive his original amendment, which would make it U.S. policy to get out of Indochina in nine months if all American prisoners are released. But he said he wouldn't try to attach it to the compromise draft bill.

"I don't intend to be obstructive," Mansfield said. "I don't intend to filibuster and I don't intend to vote for the bill."

The draft bill is not expected to come up in the Senate until after the month-long recess.

Corn Farmers Cautioned To Watch Fields

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The overall level of the southern corn leaf blight in Ohio has been light but corn growers should watch their fields closely during the next two or three weeks for damage, an Ohio State University plant pathologist said today.

Pathologist C. Wayne Ellet said that if the weather is favorable — a hot humid period — the disease may increase more rapidly as corn approaches the roasting ear stage.

Corn samples from 73 Ohio counties had been found to have blight lesions as of July 31. Ellet said the blight also is present in the other 15 counties of the state, but samples from those counties have not been identified positively.

Ellet said there are some fields throughout the western half of the state that are moderately severely affected. Although there has been some increase in disease severity in the past two weeks, it has not been rapid. Some spraying is being done, especially in western Ohio from the Ohio River to the Michigan border.

Two types of ear infection have been seen recently, Ellet said. The tip of the ear is being invaded in some cases with the silk and tips of husks becoming black as the spores of the fungus develop.

Lessons are also occurring on the sides of the ears, often gray, with or without a purple border. Such lesions may be quite large and penetrate several layers of husks.

Peace Envoys Press For Ceasefire

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam pressed anew today for an Indochina cease-fire and urged the Vietnamese Communists to clarify their peace plan.

U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib, interim head of the American delegation, charged that all the Communists have proposed in response to allied demands is a "sham cease-fire—conditional and limited in its scope."

Habib and the South Vietnamese ambassador Pham Dang Lam reiterated their proposals for an Indochina cease-fire in prepared statements to the 124th session of the Paris peace talks.

The peace conference was overshadowed momentarily by news dispatches from Stockholm indicating that North Vietnam's minister of state, Xuan Thuy, head of the delegation to the talks, declared the Stockholm reports were the result of "excessive imagination."

Thuy reiterated that if the United States wants to have its prisoners back it must agree to the Communist peace plan. It calls for simultaneous American withdrawal from South Vietnam and prisoner release if the United States will agree to get out by the end of this year.

Asked by reporters if there had been diplomatic contacts outside the Paris peace talks on the prisoner issue, Thuy replied: "The only way that will lead to results is if Mr. Nixon responds to our peace plan in Paris."

Agree To Ban Germ Warfare

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union today presented a joint draft treaty to ban the development, production and stockpiling of bacteriological weapons and toxins.

After many months of haggling, the superpowers finally agreed on identical drafts in which they also pledged to negotiate another accord to ban chemical weapons. The draft was submitted at the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

The Russians made one major concession to the Americans by accepting a specific ban on bacteriological weapons, while the United States in return agreed to a strongly worded commitment to start negotiating a chemical warfare ban.

The draft treaty is expected to meet with some opposition from non-aligned nations at the coming U.N. General Assembly, but U.S. and Soviet diplomats here are confident it will be adopted with only minor amendments.

Nixon Welcomes Anti-Inflation Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Switching his tactics, President Nixon has challenged Congress to structure a wage-price review board without binding the economy in a straitjacket of controls.

Welcoming a full-scale debate in Congress on the wage-price board proposal, Nixon said Wednesday he is now open-minded about the idea but still skeptical it would ever work or should even be tried. In the past he had rejected such a move outright.

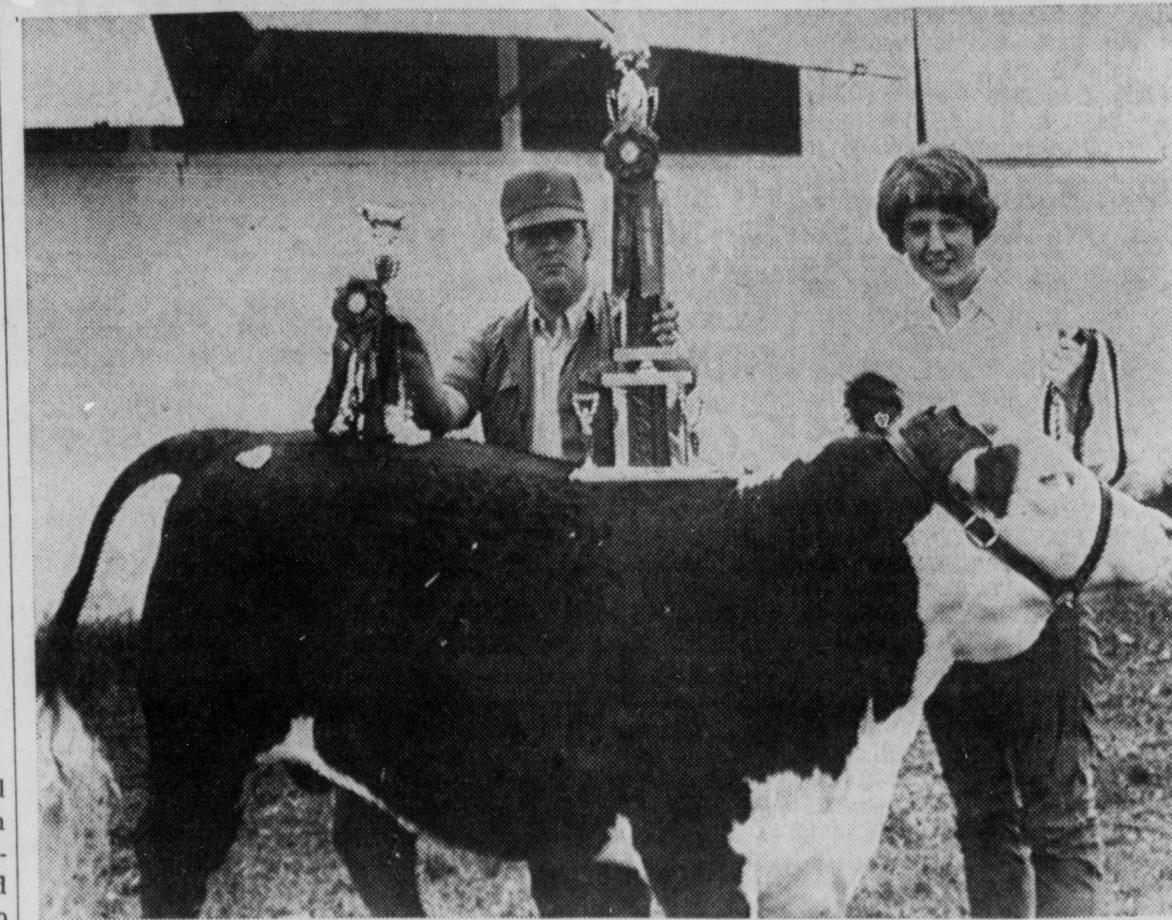

Nixon's new flexibility on the anti-inflation proposal was coupled with a pledge to move more vigorously against big wage and price increases in the economy on a case-by-case basis.

As Congress pondered his words, the Labor Department prepared a fresh reading on inflationary trends in the economy with a report on July wholesale-price movements.

Nixon's challenge to Congress on a wage-price board was delivered in a roundabout way. He said he would consider such an idea favorably only if hearings convince him it could be done without stifling the economy.

"The problem here is, how can we move without putting

SAS Claims Report Was 'Incorrect'

Swedish Newspaper Disputes Denial; Conceals Sources

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Scandinavian airline said today a report that American military officials had asked the airline to fly 187 American prisoners of war from Laos to Europe was incorrect.

The earlier report had brought a flood of official denials from American and North Vietnamese officials.

The airline said today its office in West Germany had been approached in mid-July by a "private individual" who wanted to arrange a charter flight from Laos to Rome "for 187 passengers."

"It was never mentioned that the category of passengers was military personnel," SAS said in a statement released today.

The airline said it made preliminary arrangements and was ready to sign a contract, but this "has been called off by the private contact of SAS in Germany."

The "private individual" was not identified by name or nationality.

The report of a prospective POW flight was first published Wednesday night in Sweden's biggest newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, which said the flight would be on Aug. 12.

This was followed by an announcement from an SAS spokesman that U.S. military authorities in West Germany had asked to charter a DC8 to airlift 187 POWs from Vientiane, the Laotian capital, to Rome by way of Bangkok.

Dagens Nyheter charged SAS with "giving way to political pressure to soft pedal the whole thing."

Editor in Chief Boerje Dahlqvist maintained the newspaper's reported, attributed to "sources," was "wholly correct as it stands," but refused to identify his sources. He did not specify what "political pressure" he claimed had been applied.

SAS spokesman Jack Herbert said: "Nuts to Dagens Nyheter. I can't give any explanation about this whole thing other than to say that a lot of people were unavailable when his story broke and that we could not sort things out until now."

In Washington, President Nixon's news secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, said the U.S. government "has not been in-

3 Oberlin Men Die In Collision

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Three Oberlin residents were killed and a fourth seriously injured early today when their car was struck by a tractor-trailer truck on U.S. 20 near Oberlin in Lorain County.

Killed were the driver of the car, Howard Robinson, 47, and passengers Charles Morton, 46, and Willie E. Robinson, 47.

William C. Jones, 70, who was the only other person in the car, was in critical condition at Allen Memorial Hospital in Oberlin.

The truck driver, John E. Trovanowski, 53, of Muskegon, Mich., was not injured.

The State Patrol said Robinson pulled his car out onto U.S. 20 from Quarry Road into the path of the truck, which struck the car on the left side.

1972 Auto Prices Jump 4.1 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors announced today its 1972 cars will carry price tags averaging $152, or 4.1 per cent, above comparably equipped 1971 models.

The 1972 cars go on sale Sept. 23 and announcement of new prices was not expected until then.

The only exception to the upward trend in GM's car line prices were the Chevrolet Camaro and the Pontiac Firebird whose prices were lowered between 1.2 and 1.3 per cent below 1971 prices.

Ford Motor Co. provided the first clue to the new car price trend in late July when it notified dealers that '72 cars being shipped to them would carry advance billing tags about 5.2 per cent over 1971 prices. The advance billing prices are those which Ford charges against the dealer when the cars are shipped and they can be adjusted when the final price tag time comes.

Dayton Inventor Dies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A. L. Freedlander, a Dayco Corp. administrator, scientist and inventor who quietly filled his life with philanthropic work, died Wednesday in Good Samaritan Hospital.

Freedlander, 82, Dayco president and general manager from 1936 until 1957 and board chairman from 1957-1968, was personally responsible for more than 120 patents during his 52-year career with the company.

SAS Claims Report Was 'Incorrect'

Swedish Newspaper Disputes Denial; Conceals Sources

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Scandinavian airline said today a report that American military officials had asked the airline to fly 187 American prisoners of war from Laos to Europe was incorrect.

The earlier report had brought a flood of official denials from American and North Vietnamese officials.

The airline said today its office in West Germany had been approached in mid-July by a "private individual" who wanted to arrange a charter flight from Laos to Rome "for 187 passengers."

"It was never mentioned that the category of passengers was military personnel," SAS said in a statement released today.

The airline said it made preliminary arrangements and was ready to sign a contract, but this "has been called off by the private contact of SAS in Germany."

The "private individual" was not identified by name or nationality.

The report of a prospective POW flight was first published Wednesday night in Sweden's biggest newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, which said the flight would be on Aug. 12.

This was followed by an announcement from an SAS spokesman that U.S. military authorities in West Germany had asked to charter a DC8 to airlift 187 POWs from Vientiane, the Laotian capital, to Rome by way of Bangkok.

Dagens Nyheter charged SAS with "giving way to political pressure to soft pedal the whole thing."

Editor in Chief Boerje Dahlqvist maintained the newspaper's reported, attributed to "sources," was "wholly correct as it stands," but refused to identify his sources. He did not specify what "political pressure" he claimed had been applied.

SAS spokesman Jack Herbert said: "Nuts to Dagens Nyheter. I can't give any explanation about this whole thing other than to say that a lot of people were unavailable when his story broke and that we could not sort things out until now."

In Washington, President Nixon's news secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, said the U. S. government "has not been in-

3 Oberlin Men Die In Collision

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Three Oberlin residents were killed and a fourth seriously injured early today when their car was struck by a tractor-trailer truck on U.S. 20 near Oberlin in Lorain County.

Killed were the driver of the car, Howard Robinson, 47, and passengers Charles Morton, 46, and Willie E. Robinson, 47.

William C. Jones, 70, who was the only other person in the car, was in critical condition at Allen Memorial Hospital in Oberlin.

The truck driver, John E. Trovanowski, 53, of Muskegon, Mich., was not injured.

The State Patrol said Robinson pulled his car out onto U.S. 20 from Quarry Road into the path of the truck, which struck the car on the left side.

which most of the men whose numbers are drawn today will be eligible for induction, we expect the draft calls will be even lower.

Men who turn 19 in 1971 but who are exempted or deferred still keep the draft numbers drawn today. The numbers will determine their draft priority at such time as they become eligible and go through a year's exposure to the call-up process.

Men born in 1951 or earlier are not affected. They keep numbers assigned in two previous lotteries.

Capsules containing numbers and birthdate were filled in random sequence Tuesday. Birthdates went into brown capsules and the numbers 1 through 366 went into yellow ones. There were 366 days in 1962, a leap year. Birthdates are matched with numbers, and men whose birthdates are assigned No. 1 are called up first.

This year's lottery procedure was streamlined in hopes of shortening it. It took 3 1/2 hours last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the order of call, listing each birth date with the number assigned to it, for the 1972 military draft as determined by the lottery drawing today.

The first draftees will be those with the lowest numbers. However, draft boards will go as high as necessary to fill military manpower needs.

sional recess that begins Friday.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said it should be the first order of business after the Senate reconvenes Sept. 8.

The old draft law expired June 30 and officials say if a new one isn't passed soon they may have to use residual authority to call up some men who had been deferred.

Meanwhile, the Selective Service went ahead today with the lottery that will determine the order in which men who turn 19 next year will face military service.

Stennis said he did not anticipate a great deal of trouble in winning passage of the draft bill. But Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, said he will be on hand to filibuster as soon as the bill comes up.

He said he hopes to muster a 12-man force of draft-bill opponents in an effort to talk it to death.

Committee

OKs Funds

For Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved a $21-billion military buying authorization giving the Nixon administration just about everything it sought for major weapons development.

The committee made a slight reduction in funds for the Safeguard missile defense system and ruled out a start on extending it to the Washington, D.C., area, largely because the current deployment is running behind schedule and additional money could not be spent.

The committee restored $801.6 million cut out by the House for the Navy's F14 carrier-based fighter interceptor, citing the Pentagon's recommendation the program be carried out and the contractor's statement the funds are sufficient for 48 planes.

The procurement bill, which has precipitated lengthy Senate debates the past two years, will be called up for action in September.

It undoubtedly will attract a number of amendments, aimed at such major weapons programs as the Safeguard and the B1 advanced manned bomber. Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee predicted it "will have a very rugged trip on the floor."

An aide to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said he will offer two amendments dealing with Laos—one to limit U.S. spending there and another to stop U.S. pay for Thai troops in Laos.

14 GI's Killed

In Viet Action

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 14 Americans were listed as killed in action in Vietnam last week, maintaining a six-year low in battlefield casualties. Fifteen other U.S. troops died of such nonhostile causes as accidents and illness.

A spokesman for the command, Maj. Richard Gardner, said that of the 14 battlefield deaths, six occurred in action during the seven-day period. Six others previously listed as missing in action were confirmed dead and two others wounded in previous weeks died last week.

Another 71 Americans were wounded last week.

Quick Passage Expected Of 'Jobs-For-Vets' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1-billion bill to find jobs in a hurry primarily for Vietnam veterans was poised today for a quick trip from the Senate to the White House.

It sailed through the House Wednesday by a roll-call vote of 321 to 78 and was expected to get an equally fast shuffle through the Senate.

The bill has support of Democratic leaders. Since President Nixon requested the money he is expected to approve the measure even though he vetoed a broader and most costly bill last year.

get an equally fast shuffle through the Senate.

The bill has support of Democratic leaders. Since President Nixon requested the money he is expected to approve the measure even though he vetoed a broader and most costly bill last year.

The $1 billion is for the first half of a two-year program authorized earlier this year.

It is designed to provide quick jobs for up to 173,000 unemployed persons in public service posts including police and fire departments, health and sanitation activities. Priority goes to Vietnam veterans.

The pay would average $6,000 a year, with limited number of $12,000 professional positions for persons displaced by cutbacks in defense and other industries.

The federal government would pay 90 per cent of the wages with state and individual area governments paying the rest.

Under the bill $600 million would be distributed to states according to a formula comparing total unemployment and unemployment over 4.5 per cent over a three-month period with national figures. No state would get less than $1.5 million.

Another $250 million would be distributed by the Labor Department to areas of acute unemployment of 6 per cent or more, with $100 million being held in reserve for emergency use. The remaining $50 million would be for administrative expenses.

Attempts to change the formulas so some states would get more and to prevent governors or other state officials from handling the aid claims of smaller areas were defeated by the House.

The sheriff began an investigation and was able to confirm that it was Owens who had lost his life. Radcliff said that although Los Angeles Police had the registration number of the car, no effort was apparently made to trace it through the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

On June 30 of this year, David Owens, 21, a brother of Robert Owens, was electrocuted underneath his family's home when he became entangled in wiring.

ROBERT Owens graduated in June from Miami University with a bachelor of arts in psychology and related studies and in English Literature. He had applied for a position with the Los Angeles Police Department Radcliff learned.

In addition to his parents, Owens is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Leonard (Virginia) Eblin, Dayton; Mrs. Mark (Kathy) Green, Groveport; Stella Owens, Brighton, Miss.

Funeral arrangements will be completed by Mader Funeral Home.

Paint, Engine Stolen In County

Two thefts in Pickaway County are under investigation by the Sheriff's Department.

Someone took paint and paint supplies Wednesday afternoon from a house under construction on the Mt. Sterling-Commercial Point Road.

The house is being built by J and O Construction Co. and the items were valued at $107.25.

Harold Moss, Kingston, reported the theft of a $50 gasoline engine from a storage shed on his farm.

Gilligan Announces Changes In Operation Of Prisons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A series of changes in the operation of the state's correctional system — including an end to the censorship of inmate mail — were announced today by Gov. John J. Gilligan.

He said the changes were the start of implementing the interim recommendations of his Citizens' Task Force on Corrections.

The new procedure, he said, would begin to solve "one of the most serious and vexing problems facing state government."

In a news conference, Gilligan said the actions were aimed at improving the lot of prisoners in state institutions, improving the care and rehabilitation services given the prisoners, making needed changes in administrative practices and improving conditions for employees to attract and retain qualified personnel.

The move to end censorship of inmate mail was part of what Gilligan said was a basic change in the operation of the Division of Correction itself, including reorganization on a functional basis.

Censorship of inmate mail is ended except for examination for contraband materials. Gilligan said he and Correction's Commissioner Bennett J. Cooper "considered it essential that inmates retain some sense of dignity and that fundamental rights be protected."

The new regulations permit inmates to write to and to receive mail from any person of their choosing. Gilligan said he believed Ohio was the first state in the nation to end censorship of inmate mail.

"Because we also believe inmates should have an opportunity to air their grievances, I have ordered that the task force recommendation for the establishment of inmate-employee advocates be implemented by the hiring of two such advocates this September," the governor said.

Gilligan also announced changes in the handling of parole hearings to give prisoners as much information as possible about their own cases and a study of the feasibility of appearing "jailhouse lawyers" to assist inmates in solving legal problems.

Two persons were injured and two cited in three separate traffic accidents Wednesday in Pickaway County.

Michael David Horner, 21, Greenfield, suffered a cut ear and a passenger, Carol Horner, 19, Greenfield, bruises of the arm, back and face in a one-car mishap 2:15 p.m. at the intersection of Route 138 and Judas Road. Both were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

According to the report of Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover, Horner lost control of his car on the wet pavement. The auto skidded off the right side of the road, hit a fence and rebounded back across the road, striking another fence.

Katherine J. Reeser, 28, 935 S. Washington St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way when she pulled her car from the curb at 419 E. Franklin St. 12:40 p.m. and struck a car driven by Jack W. Mills, 37, 325 Clark Dr.

Dalena Fyffe, 27, 225 Third Ave., received a citation for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead as the result of a two-car accident 9:50 p.m. at the junction of Route 511 and Morris Road.

A southbound car driven by Doris C. Haynes, 52, 1075 Georgia Road, had stopped to make a left turn onto Morris Road when the Fyffe auto, also southbound, struck the rear of her vehicle.

Draft Numbers . .

which most of the men whose numbers are drawn today will be eligible for induction, we expect the draft calls will be even lower."

Men who turn 19 in 1971 but who are exempted or deferred still keep the draft numbers drawn today. The numbers will determine their draft priority at such time as they become eligible and go through a year's exposure to the call-up process.

Men born in 1951 or earlier are not affected. They keep numbers assigned in two previous lotteries.

Capsules containing numbers and birthdate were filled in random sequence Tuesday. Birthdates went into brown capsules and the numbers 1 through 366 went into yellow ones. There were 366 days in 1952, a leap year. Birthdates are matched with numbers, and men whose birthdays are assigned No. 1 are called up first.

This year's lottery procedure was streamlined in hopes of shortening it. It took 3½ hours last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the order of call, listing each birth date with the number assigned to it, for the 1972 military draft as determined by the lottery drawing today.

The first draftees will be those with the lowest numbers. However, draft boards will go as high as necessary to fill military manpower needs.

14 GI's Killed In Viet Action

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 14 Americans were listed as killed in action in Vietnam last week, maintaining a six-year low in battlefield casualties. Fifteen other U.S. troops died of such nonhostile causes as accidents and illness.

A spokesman for the command, Maj. Richard Gardner, said that of the 14 battlefield deaths, six occurred in action during the seven-day period. Six others previously listed as missing in action were confirmed dead and two others wounded in previous weeks died last week.

Another 71 Americans were wounded last week.

Compromise

sional recess that begins Friday.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said it should be the first order of business after the Senate reconvenes Sept. 8.

The old draft law expired June 30 and officials say if a new one isn't passed soon they may have to use residual authority to call up some men who had been deferred.

Meanwhile, the Selective Service went ahead today with the lottery that will determine the order in which men who turn 19 next year will file military service.

Stennis said he did not anticipate a great deal of trouble in winning passage of the draft bill. But Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, said he will be on hand to filibuster as soon as the bill comes up.

He said he hopes to muster a 12-man force of draft-bill opponents in an effort to talk it to death.

Committee OKs Funds For Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved a $21-billion military buying authorization giving the Nixon administration just about everything it sought for major weapons development.

The committee made a slight reduction in funds for the Safeguard missile defense system and ruled out a start on extending it to the Washington, D.C., area, largely because the current employment is running behind schedule and additional money could not be spent.

The committee restored $801.6 million cut out by the House for the Navy's F-14 carrier-based fighter intercepter, citing the Pentagon's recommendation the program be carried out and the contractor's statement the funds are sufficient for 48 planes.

The procurement bill, which has precipitated lengthy Senate debates the past two years, will be called up for action in September.

It undoubtedly will attract a number of amendments, aimed at such major weapons programs as the Safeguard and the B1 advanced manned bomber. Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee predicted it "will have a very rugged trip on the floor."

An aide to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said he will offer two amendments dealing with Laos — one to limit U.S. spending there and another to stop U.S. pay for Thai troops in Laos.

Deaths

MRS. EUDAH B. PARRETT
Mrs. Eudah B. Parrett, 82, Mt. Sterling, died Thursday morning in Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C. H.

Born Aug. 15, 1888 in Madison County, she was the daughter of Elmer and Margaret Adkins Beale.

Her husband Scott preceded her in death.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Raymond (Mary Margaret) Reiterman, Mt. Sterling; three grandchildren, Mrs. Howard (Sue) Miller, Columbus; Mrs. Donald (Peggy) Steiger, Cincinnati and Gary Reiterman, Mt. Sterling; five grandchildren.

She was a member of the Mt. Sterling United Church, Sterling Chapter 74 of OES, Mt. Sterling DAR and Senior Citizens.

Services will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Porter Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling, with Rev. Melvin Ritts officiating. Burial will be in Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the United Church.

Date Nears For Miami University Enrollment Closing

Prospective freshmen, transfers and former students of Miami University are reminded that applications for admission to Miami's Oxford campus for September close Aug. 15.

Miami's Middletown and Hamilton Campuses will continue to accept daytime classes or evening applications through the first meetings of courses. Classes begin Sept. 21 for daytime classes and Sept. 22 for evening classes.

The Oxford Campus, however, closes admission Aug. 15. Since all university housing for that campus is already filled for the fall quarter, only those who can live at home or in off-campus housing can still be considered for September admission.

Quick Passage Expected Of 'Jobs-For-Vets' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1-billion bill to find jobs in a hurry primarily for Vietnam veterans was poised today for a quick trip from the Senate to the White House.

It sailed through the House Wednesday by a roll-call vote of 321 to 78 and was expected to get an equally fast shuffle through the Senate.

The bill has support of Democratic leaders. Since President Nixon requested the money he is expected to approve the measure even though he vetoed a broader and most costly bill last year.

Sheriff Radcliff at 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

The sheriff began an investigation and was able to confirm that it was Owens who had lost his life. Radcliff said that although Los Angeles Police had the registration number of the car, no effort was apparently made to trace it through the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

On June 30 of this year, David Owens, 21, a brother of Robert Owens, was electrocuted underneath his family's home when he became entangled in wiring.

ROBERT Owens graduated in June from Miami University with a bachelor of arts in psychology and related studies and in English Literature. He had applied for a position with the Los Angeles Police Department Radcliff learned.

In addition to his parents, Owens is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Leonard (Virginia) Eblin, Dayton; Mrs. Mark (Kathy) Green, Groveport; Stella Owens, Brighton, Miss.

Funeral arrangements will be completed by Mader Funeral Home.

Paint, Engine Stolen In County

Two thefts in Pickaway County are under investigation by the Sheriff's Department.

Someone took paint and paint supplies Wednesday afternoon from a house under construction on the Mt. Sterling-Commercial Point Road.

The house is being built by J and O Construction Co. and the items were valued at $107.25.

Harold Moss, Kingston, reported the theft of a $50 gasoline engine from a storage shed on his farm.

The $1 billion is for the first half of a two-year program authorized earlier this year.

It is designed to provide quick jobs for up to 173,000 unemployed persons in public-service posts including police and fire departments, health and sanitation activities. Priority goes to Vietnam veterans.

The pay would average $6,000 a year, with limited number of $12,000 professional positions for persons displaced by cutbacks in defense and other industries.

Under the bill $800 million would be distributed to states according to a formula comparing total unemployment and unemployment over 4.5 per cent over a three-month period with national figures. No state would get less than $1.5 million.

Another $250 million would be distributed by the Labor Department to areas of acute unemployment of 6 per cent or more, with $100 million being held in reserve for emergency use. The remaining $50 million would be for administrative expenses.

Attempts to change the formulas so some states would get more and to prevent governors or other state officials from handling the aid claims of smaller areas were defeated by the House.</

Ban Lifted On Topical Advertising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paid advertising on controversial public issues must be accepted by radio and television stations under a ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals here.

The split decision by a three-judge panel Tuesday specifically struck down "a flat ban on paid public issue announcements" announced by the Federal Communications Commission a year ago.

The court ruling came on two appeals from that 1970 decision. The Democratic National Committee had sought but failed to obtain a commission declaration that stations or networks must sell time for comment on political issues as well as for soliciting funds.

The other appeal, by the Business Executives Move for Peace, complained that Washington radio station WTOP-AM had refused to sell it time for antiwar statements.

The station, owned by the Washington Post Company, contended it could not be compelled to sell the advertising time because the Vietnam war had received balanced and adequate news coverage.

Judge J. Skelly Wright in a 54-page opinion wrote: "It may unsettle some of us to see an antiwar message or a political party message in the accustomed place of a soap or beer commercial."

"But we must not equate what is habitual with what is right, or what is constitutional."

to form the theme of "The Walking Stones" by Mollie Hunter. Second sight is granted to Bodach, and in his old age he prepares Donald Campbell to receive it. Young Donald is fascinated by the old man's stories, yet he has a certain fear in accepting the awesome charge. "The Walking Stones" could be a novelist's explanation of Stonehenge. Trina Schart Hyman illustrated this thriller for boys and girls.

"Charlotte Sometimes" is a curious combination. Part is the story of a girl living alternate days in 1918 and the present, and the rest is a rather stereotyped English boarding-school tale. Charlotte has difficulty keeping her two identities in their proper places. She becomes lovingly involved with her historical sister and is torn between her two lives. Penelope Farmer, who wrote the book, has made fantasy believable, especially now when time and space transference are a possibility of the future.

Phyllis Whitney never writes down to her readers. Her juvenile mysteries are told in the same grown-up fashion she uses in her adult books. Perhaps that is why her books are always popular with young people. Her latest book is "The Secret of the Missing Footprint." It is about Marcie, who had to stay with her aunt and uncle while her parents were abroad. She decided she didn't care for adults at all. Then she met Timothy, and adventures began to happen thick and fast.

"The Virginia Colony" by Harry Edward Neal is an excellent account of Virginia's history from 1584 to 1799. The original, lost colony of Roanoke remains an enigma to this day. But later attempts at permanent settlement were successful, in spite of all kinds of adversities. Three main factors, aside from the tobacco crops, helped stabilize the colony. They were the Great Charter, which permitted representative government, the importation of unmarried girls, and the introduction of African servants, later to become slaves. Mr. Neal's book is accurate in detail, a comprehensive history for the middle grades.

False Hope

Some of the latest activities of the underworld might inspire the happy thought that the masterminds of crime have retired and turned over the business to crooks too young for the job.

But some hilarious examples of criminal bungling will bring no comfort to J. Edgar Hoover and his fellow law men. On the contrary, they are merely indications that the criminal ranks are being expanded by the recruitment of amateurs, and amateurs often improve with practice.

The temporary gang organized for a foray against a warehouse, bank or jewelry store is, of course, a serious problem for the police. But it isn't their most serious challenge. The nationwide criminal syndicates, whose operations Congress is now exploring, are much more formidable.

They make millions. They also make few mistakes — and generally bury them.

It is possible to smile at the occasional knuckleheaded amateur burglar, but there is nothing to laugh at in organized crime. And there is no evidence that, with all their repetitious investigations, law enforcement authorities are making real headway against syndicate operations in narcotics, prostitution, loan sharking and illegal gambling.

Campaign Inflation

The main problem in trying to pin down how much is spent on a major political campaign is that no one really knows.

The campaign financing reporting laws are weak and seldom enforced. Everyone seems to be convinced candidates spend too much money trying for office, but few campaigns ever account for all the dollars spent.

One comparison is available, though, which seems to confirm that campaign spending is on the increase — perhaps dramatically so. Official reports filed with the Clerk of the House, the Secretary of the Senate and by the two major party national committees add up to $42.4 million for last year's off-year elections.

This was an increase of 73 per cent over the $24.5 million reported in 1966. Perhaps some of the indicated growth is simply a matter of more honest reporting. A total of 107 candidates failed to file their required reports in 1968. Only 25 congressional candidates — all losers — failed to do so last year.

Flowers And Sneezes

Hay fever sufferers maintain that the world should give some attention to another variety of fallout, the fine pollen given off by ragweed.

This vigorous plant seems to prosper in all climates and in almost all countries. It has been known to grow to a height of 17 feet. The common ragweed is usually about a foot high but can under favorable conditions attain a height of seven feet. It is the almost three-like great ragweed or horse cane which attains the gigantic 17-foot size.

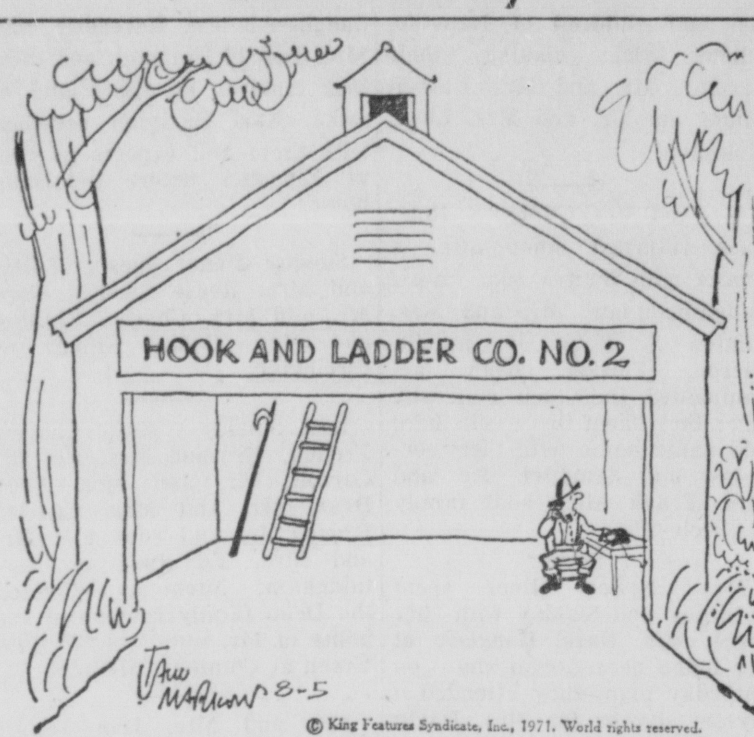

All these plants live off enormous amounts of pollen which contain elements to which many human beings are allergic.

The result is that in August when the flowers mature, the season of running noses and eyes and sneezes begins for thousands of persons. Only a few areas such as the Canadian north, islands at sea and some mountainous regions provide havens of security for its victims.

All this suffering is needless. If by some international convention a determined effort were made to eradicate ragweed, nature's fallout, the pollen count would be reduced and afflicted humanity gain relief.

Laff-A-Day

"Mr. Mayor? How's the new budget coming along, Your Honor?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARCHBISHOP Fulton J. Sheen tells the story of a man who came home one evening and said to his resolutely optimistic wife, "I've had a tough day at the office, so I'll welcome particularly this evening the good news you always have for me." "It's better than ever to-night, darling," she bubbled. "You know we have six children — and the wonderful news is that five of them didn't break their arms today."

Gertrude Stein could never have enough flattery — and was honest enough to admit it. She once said, "A writer wants three things most: praise, praise, praise."

A female battle-axe — definitely liberated — spread herself across the double-front seat of a Madison Avenue bus the other day, and obviously determined not to ride past her destination pestered the driver all the way up the Avenue. As a climax, she poked him vigorously with her umbrella and demanded, "Isn't that Eighty-third Street?" "It is NOT," replied the exasperated driver. "That is my behind."

A tough sergeant caught a draftee with a single button of his jacket unbuttoned and roared, "Sun bathing, eh?" © 1971, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been examined by six different doctors in three weeks for a skin condition that has plagued me for four years.

I am absolutely confused by their explanations and don't know what to do.

Mr. E.N.M., S. C. Dear Mr. M.: I must repeat one other aspect of your letter so that my readers can gain insight into that which I consider to be total neglect of health.

You said that for four years you did not go to a doctor, expecting that the skin condition would disappear by itself. Now, really, that can hardly be reasonable thinking.

Four years of neglect and discomfort impresses me as medical carelessness. Your sudden spurt of medical consultations does not seem to be in keeping with such a long delay.

You have hardly given any of the doctors and the medicines they prescribe a chance to cure a well-established four-year illness.

Your impatience now is not compatible with your procrastination.

A friend of mine was told that she has "tunnel vision." From the way she described it, I think I may have it, too. Can you explain the condition to me?

Miss H. G., Wis. Dear Miss G.: As the name suggests, people with tunnel vision seem to be looking through a straight and narrow tube.

That which is missing in their vision is the wide range of "peripheral" vision that we all normally have.

There are many reasons for tunnel vision, some simple, others complicated, and all of them determined by a special eye examination known as "field vision."

It may well be that your friend has some type of tunnel vision. I would not, however, attempt to guess whether or not you have it by the symptoms she describes.

Rather than concern yourself, discuss your fears with your parents, and then with your doctor, who can give you the assurance you seem to need.

I have a terrible problem. I am now 12 years old. When I was 2 years old, I had an accident that left me with a dark brown scar on my face.

Where can I go to find out if I'm old enough for plastic surgery?

Miss N.W., N. J. Dear Miss W.: Very close to the city in which you live there are a number of excellent hospitals with large plastic surgery departments.

First, discuss your problem with your parents. They will understand why you are anxious to have this scar removed. Then they will talk to your family doctor, who will be helpful in finding a plastic surgeon who will give you an expert opinion.

On this date:

In 1858, the first transatlantic cable was completed.

In 1861, the U.S. government levied an income tax for the first time.

In 1884, the cornerstone of the Statue of Liberty was laid at the entrance to New York harbor.

In 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war on Russia.

In 1949, about 6,000 persons were killed in an earthquake in Ecuador.

In 1953, the U.N. command in Korea began an exchange of prisoners with North Korea and Communist China.

Ten years ago: The Castro government of Cuba announced that all Cuban currency must be exchanged within two days for newly printed currency.

Each family was permitted to exchange only 200 pesos.

Five years ago: Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee defeated Senator Ross Bass to win the Democratic nomination to the Senate.

One year ago: A 14-year-old French boy flew first class from Sydney, Australia to Paris without a ticket and with only ten cents in his pocket.

The Supreme Court, according to a Georgia legislator, may have to settle that boundary dispute between Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina. Let's hope it can — what we really don't need is another War Between the States.

Ideology Slayer

By JEFFERY HART

In a recent column I suggested that President Nixon's move toward China both reflected and would hasten the emergence of a system of international relations based on five major powers: the U.S., Russia, China, Japan, and Western Europe — which will replace the U.S.-Soviet bi-polar confrontation that characterized the post-World War II period. I would now like to speculate about one effect of such a quinquelocal world.

With the reemergence of balance-of-power politics, I would expect an erosion of ideology on the part of all participants, the erosion being most dramatic where the ideology has been purest. China, it is plain, welcomes the Nixon initiative not only for reasons of national interest, economic interest, but also fear of the Soviet Union; faced by a stronger opponent, one seeks friends, or at least seeks to neutralize other potential opponents. And so the game begins. Japan has potential sources of conflict with Russia, and as Japan's economic — and no doubt military — power increases, the Soviets may have to seek accommodations with the U.S., Europe, or both. But balance-of-power politics always down-grades ideology. How could Peking retain credibility as the repository of pure revolutionary morality while welcoming Nixon to Peking — and, later on, perhaps Heath, Pompidou or even Papadopoulos.

Similarly, as balance-of-power becomes the name of the game, it will be difficult for those liberal moralists who are welcoming the rapprochement with Mao and Chou to maintain their righteous fury against the Greek colonels or Portugal or South Africa, for alongside the Maoist despotism such regimes look positively benign.

A similar blow to ideology occurred in 1939 with the announcement of the Hitler-Stalin pact. For Stalin, the pact was dictated by Russian national interest plus a natural desire to save his own hide.

But the pact was a staggering blow to Communist parties around the world, and shook many an intellectual down out of the ideological trees. The Nixon-Chou diplomacy is already beginning to produce similar shock-waves.

"There's something wrong here," said one SDS radical, "something we're not being told, as usual . . . it's not clear why Chairman Mao would allow this. I just don't know."

Said another New York radical: "How can the Chinese, the only real Communists in the world, trust a man like Nixon?"

And this is probably nothing to what they are saying in Havana or Hanoi. Castro saw Khrushchev deal with Kennedy over his head during the missile crisis, and then the Cuban ideology "went Chinese." Castro must have a sense of deja vu. "Under the spreading chestnut tree I sold you and you sold me . . ."

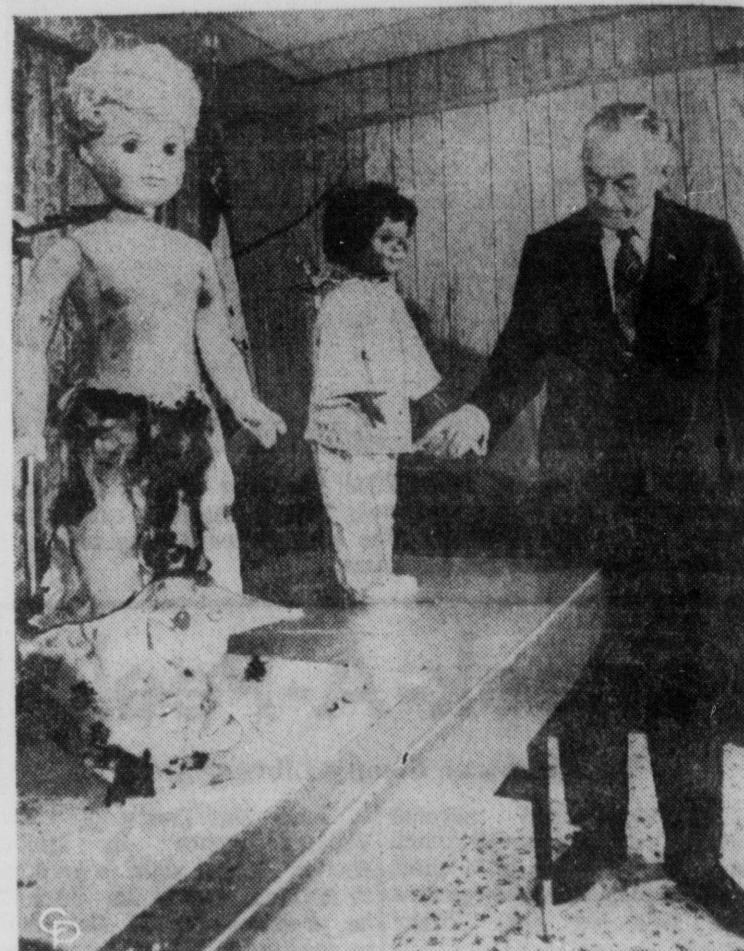

In the past, balance-of-power politics has always driven a wedge between policy and morality. Therefore, in traditional diplomacy, it has always been customary to recognize a regime once it clearly gains effective control. Recognition and diplomatic ties did not imply approval. Most governments have never been very nice, and probably never will be.

More recently, however, we have gotten into the habit of vetoing regimes all over the globe according to aprioristic standards. Are the Greek colonels really representative?

And what about their constitution? How pure will Thieu's elections be? Is Franco being nasty to the Basques? Why don't the South Africans embrace racial integration? This kind of thing will sound increasingly absurd as we savor the won ton soup with Mao and Chou.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Oh, to be 70 again!", said octogenarian Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, as a pretty girl passed by.

The yearning for a second try at life comes to all of us now and then. Or at least we feel it would be better to be any other age than the age we happen to be at the moment.

What do you think you would actually do if you could relive not all your life over again but just one year for every decade up until now? It's a teasing thought, isn't it?

Well, if I were 10 years old, I think I'd—

Play with girls more often than I did before.

Learn chess instead of checkers.

Read fewer fairy tales and more biographies.

Ask my father and mother more questions about life and get to know them better as people.

What would I do if I were 20 years old? I'd—

Climb more balconies than I did before. At least a dozen more I'd say offhand.

Train sedulously to become skilled in at least one sport I could follow all my life.

Ridicule my professors less and listen to the best ones more.

Strike down the dastard fellow student who told me it makes you feel better to drink straight gin out of a bottle.

What about 30 again? This time I'd—

Still marry for love instead of money. Love may have its lulls, but no man has less manhood than one living on the money of a woman he can't stand.

Most of the city of Chattanooga should rightfully be in their state, say some Georgians. Chattanooga, Ga. — how does that sound to you? Terrible, no doubt, if you're a Tennessean.

Settle down to a life task which would be morally acceptable and held the hope of financial comfort.

Strike down the dastard who told me that a Martini made of three parts gin and one part vermouth would make life more livable.

How about being 40 again? Well, I guess I'd—Cry for six months, then adjust my mind to endure what I could not cure.

Finish the correspondence course in ventriloquism I started at the age of 12.

Think of old girl friends on rainy afternoons.

Strike down the dastard who told me that a Martini made of four parts gin and one part vermouth could still make life beautiful.

And how's about being 50 again? I would—

Get used to seeing girls run from the water cooler when they saw me coming.

Go to more bridge games than cocktail parties.

Become accustomed to listening to dull banquet speakers.

Strike down the dastard who told me that a Martini made of six parts gin and one part vermouth was the answer to the search for a perfect life.

And what about being 60 again? What do you mean—again! That's what I am now.

I have already ordered a 10-speed wheel chair and struck down the dastard who told me that the only sensible solution to the problem of existence is a Martini made by mixing a thimble of vermouth and a full bottle of gin.

Man, this is real living! Let your past be past.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Many executives and professional persons these days are receiving offers of $5000 loans for as long as five years from strangers merely for fixing their signatures to an application. Thousands are doing so.

The offers, which are made through the mail, require no security. The questionnaire may take only 10 minutes to fill out. The applicant's business associates may not be checked. The reason for the loan may not be verified.

Understandably, business seems to be thriving. Substantial companies are involved in the lending, and the record to date suggests that not only is demand high but that profits can be even higher.

Who borrows? Universal C.I.T. Credit Co., which entered the field three years ago, reports that doctors are the most frequent borrowers, followed in order by bankers, business executives, certified public accountants and dentists.

"We really don't care what they want the money for except that it must be for a legitimate purpose," said Edward W. May, vice president of the C.I.T. subsidiary.

The important thing to the lenders is that the borrower is not overextended—that the loan is for a reasonable amount and for a good purpose, and that the borrower has a good, steady income above $15,000 a year.

Despite the lack of security, almost all loans are repaid properly. May reports that out of many hundreds of loans made since his company entered the business he is currently concerned about only two, both to doctors.

In one instance the doctor lost his license and went to jail. "The other is going hippie on us; he joined a commune" said May.

Most loans to doctors are made only after the applicant has been in business many years. Many young doctors are overextended, May has found.

Bankers are frequent customers because of an old tradition that they not borrow from their own bank and because of a desire for confidentiality that would be breached by borrowing from a competitor.

They pay well for their loans, 18 per cent a year on the unpaid balance, or 1.5 per cent a month. That means a $5,000 loan paid back in 48 monthly installments costs $2,049.28 in interest charges. For the five-year limit the price is $2,617.60.

One of the obvious hazards for the lenders involves the unknown financial obligations of the applicant.

The industry faces this problem by trusting to the philosophy of "trusting the applicant and then checking him" insofar as it is possible. But the averages are on its side.

In May of this year the median income of borrowers was $23,000 and the average length of employment was 14 years. Almost all borrowers are well established in their communities. Not only do they have the ability to repay but the reputation to uphold.

And here is one other assurance that the lenders insist upon. The wife must sign also. "An unsecured note should be a family obligation," said May.

The great artist Titian executed one of his most famous paintings when he was 95 years old. An old master who was really old!

False Hope

Some of the latest activities of the underworld might inspire the happy thought that the masterminds of crime have retired and turned over the business to crooks too young for the job.

But some hilarious examples of criminal bungling will bring no comfort to J. Edgar Hoover and his fellow law men. On the contrary, they are merely indications that the criminal ranks are being expanded by the recruitment of amateurs, and amateurs often improve with practice.

The temporary gang organized for a foray against a warehouse, bank or jewelry store is, of course, a serious problem for the police. But it isn't their most serious challenge. The nationwide criminal syndicates, whose operations Congress is now exploring, are much more formidable.

They make millions. They also make few mistakes — and generally bury them.

It is possible to smile at the occasional knuckleheaded amateur burglar, but there is nothing to laugh at in organized crime. And there is no evidence that, with all their repetitious investigations, law enforcement authorities are making real headway against syndicate operations in narcotics, prostitution, loan sharking and illegal gambling.

Campaign Inflation

The main problem in trying to pin down how much is spent on a major political campaign is that no one really knows.

The campaign financing reporting laws are weak and seldom enforced. Everyone seems to be convinced candidates spend too much money trying for office, but few campaigns ever account for all the dollars spent.

One comparison is available, though, which seems to confirm that campaign spending is on the increase — perhaps dramatically so. Official reports filed with the Clerk of the House, the Secretary of the Senate and by the two major party national committees add up to $42.4 million for last year's off-year elections.

This was an increase of 73 per cent over the $24.5 million reported in 1966. Perhaps some of the indicated growth is simply a matter of more honest reporting. A total of 107 candidates failed to file their required reports in 1968. Only 25 congressional candidates — all losers — failed to do so last year.

Flowers And Sneezes

Hay fever sufferers maintain that the world should give some attention to another variety of fallout, the fine pollen given off by ragweed.

This vigorous plant seems to prosper in all climates and in almost all countries. It has been known to grow to a height of 17 feet. The common ragweed is usually about a foot high but can under favorable conditions attain a height of seven feet. It is the almost three-like great ragweed or horse cane which attains the gigantic 17-foot size.

All these plants live off enormous amounts of pollen which contain elements to which many human beings are allergic.

The result is that in August when the flowers mature, the season of running noses and eyes and sneezes begins for thousands of persons. Only a few areas such as the Canadian north, islands at sea and some mountainous regions provide havens of security for its victims.

All this suffering is needless. If by some international convention a determined effort were made to eradicate ragweed, nature's fallout, the pollen count would be reduced and afflicted humanity gain relief.

"Mr. Mayor? How's the new budget coming along, Your Honor?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARCHBISHOP Fulton J. Sheen tells the story of a man who came home one evening and said to his resolutely optimistic wife, "I've had a tough day at the office, so I'll welcome particularly this evening the good news you always have for me." "It's better than ever to-night, darling," she bubbled. "You know we have six children — and the wonderful news is that five of them didn't break their arms today."

Gertrude Stein could never have enough flattery — and was honest enough to admit it. She once said, "A writer wants three things most: praise, praise, praise."

A female battle-axe — definitely liberated — spread herself across the double-front seat of a Madison Avenue bus the other day, and obviously determined not to ride past her destination, pestered the driver all the way up the Avenue. As a climax, she poked him vigorously with her umbrella and demanded, "Isn't that Eighty-third Street?" "It is NOT," replied the exasperated driver. "That is my behind."

A tough sergeant caught a draftee with a single button of his jacket unbuttoned and roared, "Sun bathing, eh?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been examined by six different doctors in three weeks for a skin condition that has plagued me for four years.

I am absolutely confused by their explanations and don't know what to do.

Mr. E.N.M., S. C. Dear Mr. M.: I must repeat one other aspect of your letter so that my readers can gain insight into that which I consider to be total neglect of health.

You said that for four years you did not go to a doctor, expecting that the skin condition would disappear by itself. Now, really, that can hardly be reasonable thinking.

Four years of neglect and discomfort impresses me as medical carelessness. Your sudden spurt of medical consultations does not seem to be in keeping with such a long delay.

You have hardly given any of the doctors and the medicines they prescribe a chance to cure a well-established four-year illness.

Your impatience now is not compatible with your procrastination.

A friend of mine was told that she has "tunnel vision." From the way she described it, I think I may have it, too. Can you explain the condition to me?

Miss H. G., Wis. Dear Miss G.: As the name suggests, people with tunnel vision seem to be looking through a straight and narrow tube.

That which is missing in their vision is the wide range of "peripheral" vision that we all normally have. There are many reasons for tunnel vision, some simple, others complicated, and all of them determined by a special eye examination known as "field vision."

It may well be that your friend has some type of tunnel vision. I would not, however, attempt to guess whether or not you have it by the symptoms she describes.

Rather than concern yourself, discuss your fears with your parents, and then with your doctor, who can give you the assurance you seem to need.

I have a terrible problem. I am now 12 years old. When I was 2 years old, I had an accident that left me with a dark brown scar on my face.

Where can I go to find out if I'm old enough for plastic surgery?

Miss N.W., N. J. Dear Miss W.: Very close to the city in which you live there are a number of excellent hospitals with large plastic surgery departments.

First, discuss your problem with your parents. They will understand why you are anxious to have this scar removed. Then they will talk to your family doctor, who will be helpful in finding a plastic surgeon who will give you an expert opinion.

FAIR WEATHER — After a sunny Sunday and Monday, rain became the weather for the fair on Tuesday and Wednesday. The downpour put a damper on the size of the crowds but didn't wet down the enthusiasm of the stalwarts who made the scene. These youngsters, sans raincoats and umbrellas, couldn't care less as they down their refreshments and take to the midway. Good weather appears to be on the menu for Thursday and Friday much to the delight of all concerned.

French Bank Stops Taking US Dollars

PARIS (AP) — The government-run Central Bank ordered commercial banks Tuesday to stop accepting dollars and other foreign currencies brought here for speculative purposes.

The order caused an almost immediate drop in the dollar's parity in major money markets all over Europe. It appeared that traders in those markets did not fully understand the nature of the order.

A Bank of France spokesman said the order was aimed only against so-called "hot money" that has been pouring into France on the expectation that the franc would be revalued upward.

The government has stated firmly many times that revaluation is not in the picture for the franc. The order was taken as proof of the credibility of the government statements.

The Bank of France specified that incoming foreign currencies should be accepted as usual for commercial transactions. Hence it should pose no difficulties for normal business dealings, or tourists.

One of the misunderstandings that apparently arose outside France was the belief that France was going to establish a two-tier market for the franc. That provides one price range for commercial transactions, and another official price range for buyers who merely want to convert foreign currencies into franc holdings. But the Bank of France spokesman denied such HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If the rest of the "Good Life" company survives this week, Larry Hagman will be back on the small screens next month playing a butler.

The actor, son of Broadway's Mary Martin, starred for five seasons as an anxious astronaut controlled by a beautiful genie in "I Dream of Jeannie." This time out he is a fed-up young stockbroker who chucks the middle-class life to go into domestic service with his wife.

In the NBC comedy episode currently in production, Hagman uses a battery-powered wheel chair. Props, lighting equipment, life and limb are imperiled as he shoots around practicing stopping, starting and—most unpredictable—turning.

Rocketing out of one scene, Hagman skidded to a halt against the metal base of a big klieg light to announce that he was happy to return to a comedy series. Last season, following the demise of "Jeannie," Hagman was in great demand for guest shots on other series, roles in movies-for-TV, and even found time to direct a theatrical film. But he never had any funny stuff.

Hagman had a deal for another series, and "The Good Life" idea turned up a week before the studio's option ran out. Since it is based on Hollywood Comedy writers' ideas about how the very rich live, it is almost as much of a fantasy—but without camera tricks—as was "Jeannie."

The millionaire (David Wayne) and his sister (Hermione Bradeley) dine alone at opposite ends of a table so long they must shout to converse. There is a lot of heavy, over-stuffed furniture, dark family portraits, George IV silver and, of course, a Rolls Royce. Hagman, the novice butler, is in striped pants, morning coat and a gates-ajar collar "Very uncomfortable, it digs holes in my neck and makes ingrown hairs."

"We had a little trouble with etiquette," Hagman said. "Most of the writers grew up in the Bronx or some such and had never run into a butler outside of the movies. They'd write a direction like 'Albert serves the food.' It isn't as simple as that."

"I grew up in a family that had servants including butlers—I've been around servants all my life—and somehow we got the proper procedures straightened out without calling in an expert."

Middletown Company Cited In Dye Dumping

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Crystal Tissue Co. of Middletown, Ohio, was cited Tuesday in a federal complaint charging a violation of the 1899 Rivers and Harbors Act in connection with a red dye dumping incident in the Great Miami River Dec. 15, 1970.

The complaint, signed by Norbert A. Nadel, first assistant U.S. Attorney, charged the company with discharging "substantial quantities" of a red dye used in coloring paper. The dye is called Rhodamine B.

As a result, Nadel said, "the Great Miami River became rose colored for about 47 miles from Middletown to the Ohio River."

UAW Faction Fights Change

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A proposed change in the United Auto Workers dues distribution to cut the locals' share will meet stiff opposition at a special UAW convention in Detroit next month.

The UAW is seeking to lower the locals share in the total dues dollar from 40 to 35 per cent. The convention was called to discuss the proposed change.

Pat Nelson, president of the 7,000-member Springfield Local 402, Wednesday announced formation of the Local Union Preservation Committee, which will fight the dues change.

"We have developed a group whose sole concern is to protect the current status of the local union, to avoid seeing our locals being hamstrung financially to the point where they become mechanical organs of a disproportionately powerful central organization," Nelson said.

Nelson said in the two weeks since he has begun seeking support against the dues change, messages of support have arrived from Memphis, Tenn.; Toronto, Boston, and the Detroit areas. He said he expects the committee, which he heads, to grow.

"We go into the convention understanding when you go against the international union you have to be categorized as the underdog," Nelson said. But, he added, "we have a good chance of defeating this issue."

Nelson said the 1.3 million member UAW is currently $33 million in debt to other unions because of what he termed mismanagement of the Walter and May Reuther Family Education Center building project in Black Lake, Mich., and lingering effects of last year's strike against General Motors.

The special convention is to be held Sept. 11.

FAIR WEATHER — After a sunny Sunday and Monday, rain became the weather for the fair on Tuesday and Wednesday. The downpour put a damper on the size of the crowds but didn't wet down the enthusiasm of the stalwarts who made the scene. These youngsters, sans raincoats and umbrellas, couldn't care less as they down their refreshments and take to the midway. Good weather appears to be on the menu for Thursday and Friday much to the delight of all concerned.

French Bank Stops Taking US Dollars

PARIS (AP) — The government-run Central Bank ordered commercial banks Tuesday to stop accepting dollars and other foreign currencies brought here for speculative purposes.

The order caused an almost immediate drop in the dollar's parity in major money markets all over Europe. It appeared that traders in those markets did not fully understand the nature of the order.

Cool Weather Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool air from the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes pushed into the Northeast today, dropping temperatures into the low 50s and 40s in some sections.

In contrast, warm weather dominated the Southwest and the Far West where the mercury soared into the 80s in portions of Idaho and Montana.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms wet the New England coast, sections of the Middle Atlantic states and the Gulf Coast.

More than 75 families were evacuated during the night from the eastern Kentucky community of Sayersville, when the Licking River spilled over its banks following a day of heavy thunderstorms.

Fair skies and mild temperatures prevailed elsewhere.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 43 at Houghton Lake, Mich., to 93 at Needles, Calif.

MRS. MARION JONES

Mrs. Marion Jones Is Champion Pie Baker At Fair

Mrs. Marion Jones, Route 1, Kingston, won the distinction of being champion pie baker Wednesday at Pickaway County Fair in the Home-making, Hobbies and Novelties Department.

For a criss-cross crust cherry pie, Mrs. Jones received a rosette, blue ribbon and cash award. She also has an entry in the All-Ohio Electric Bake-A-Rama county contest, which will be judged this afternoon.

Mrs. Jones shares her winning recipe.

CHERRY PIE SPECIAL

2 (1 pound) cans pitted tart red cherries
2 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1 teaspoon lemon juice
4 drops red food color
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon butter

Drain cherries. Measure 1/3 cup liquid into mixing bowl. Add tapioca, salt, almond extract, lemon juice, and food color, then cherries and 1 cup sugar. Mix and let stand while making pastry.

Fit pastry into bottom of 9" pie pan. Trim 1/2 inch beyond outer rim of pan. Fill with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Sprinkle with remaining sugar. Moisten rim with water.

To make criss-cross top interlace 14 strips, pressing ends against moistened rim and folding lower crust up over them. Moisten rim again and circle it with remaining 4 strips. Press down firmly. Sprinkle top with sugar.

To keep high rim from browning faster than criss-cross strips, circle pie with a stand-up foil collar. Fold foil over rim and leave on during entire baking.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes.

LARD PASTRY

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Chilly weather settled over Ohio last night under clearing skies. Temperatures dipped to the upper 40s and low 50s in northern counties and ranged from the low to mid 60s in the south.

A high centered over north-east Wisconsin this morning will dominate Ohio weather the next two days and possibly over the weekend.

The threat of showers continued over southern Ohio, but is expected to end as the high pushes south.

Afternoon highs today and Friday were forecast from the middle 70s over Lake Erie to the low 80s in southern Ohio. Lows tonight should range from the upper 40s to 50s.

Fair and slightly warmer weather is forecast for the weekend.

FORECASTS

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL, SOUTH-WEST, SOUTHEAST — Clearing and cooler tonight. Lows from the mid 50s to low 60s. Mostly sunny and little change in temperature Friday. Highs from the upper 70s to low 80s.

Garden Club Schedules Tour

Members of Pickaway County Garden Club will meet at the home of Harford Renick, Route 3, 1 p.m. Tuesday. There they will tour his country garden, which features annuals in colonial design. After viewing the garden, they will proceed to the home of Miss Miriam Weaver, 465 Half Ave., Circleville. Miss Weaver's city garden is highlighted by a water lily pool with goldfish. The business meeting will be conducted there and refreshments served.

Seniors May Buy Half Price Tickets

Senior citizens of Pickaway County may purchase tickets for the Ohio State Fair in the coliseum at Pickaway County Fair for half price.

The ticket booth is on the left at the front door of the building. Plans are underway for a bus to furnish transportation on Wednesday to Columbus.

WSCS Executives Alter Meeting Date

Executive board of Women's Society of Christian Service of Community United Methodist Church will meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12 instead of this week as originally planned.

The meeting to be held in the church parlor was changed due to the Pickaway County Fair.

The average public swimming pool contains about 250,000 gallons of water.

Couple Exchanges Vows In St. Joseph's Church

St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Katherine Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah C. Arnold, 631 Elm Ave. and Mr. Stephen Elliott, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Stonerock, 208 1/2 N. Scioto St.

Msgr. George Buchmann performed the double ring ceremony before the altar adorned with vases of purple carnations, daisies and gaidiolus 10:30 a.m. July 10. Mr. Tom Sullivan, organist, presented a program of music preceding the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a white satin brocade dress with sheer long sleeves of satin sheer and satin train flowing to chapel length from the back of the empire waist. The waistline and cuffs were trimmed with white lace with lavender silk and daisies along the center. The bride's shoulder length veil was held by a flat white bow and she carried a bouquet of daisies, purple carnations and baby's breath with purple and white streamers.

Maid of honor, Miss Cora Henn, was dressed in a lavender floor length dress embellished with white flowers. A purple flat bow held her shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of daisies and carnations.

Bridesmaids, Miss Sandy Ankrom and Miss Jenny Woodward were dressed identically to the honor attendant and carried matching bouquets.

Mr. Roger McConnell served as best man while Mr. Jim McConnell and Mr. Mike Stonerock, all brothers of the groom, were ushers.

Mrs. Arnold selected for her daughter's wedding a green dotted Swiss dress. Mrs. Stonerock wore a powder blue dress. Both mothers' corsages were of yellow carnations.

A reception at the American Legion Post Home on Route 23, immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Sara McConnell and Mrs. Linda McConnell.

The bride is a graduate of Circleville High School. Mr. Stonerock, also a graduate of Circleville High School, is employed as a salesman for Dean's Potato Chip Co. The couple now resides at 326 Lancaster Pike.

Knits are easy to care for and easy to wear. The fact that so many can be popped into the washing machine and come out as good as new has not been lost on American housewives.

ENGLISH SHOWMANSHIP — Paula Weiland was the winner of the English Showmanship class at the Pickaway County Fair Horse Show. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weiland, Lancaster, and a member of the Pickaway Colt and Equitation Club.

Medicare Payments
Delayed By Switch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Payment of Medicare claims in northeastern Ohio has been delayed by a switchover to a new processing system, Nationwide Insurance reported today. Nationwide said the backlog was created after the company accepted last month the responsibility of claims processing for Cuyahoga, Lorain, Geauga, Ash-tabula and Lake counties in addition to all of the rest of Ohio and West Virginia. "With a normal growth of claims . . . we were reaching the limits of capacity of the old system to process payments within a reasonable time," said E. M. Erickson, a company vice president.

How Weather
Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:
Chilly weather settled over Ohio last night under clearing skies. Temperatures dipped to the upper 40s and low 50s in northern counties and ranged from the low to mid 60s in the south.
A high centered over north-east Wisconsin this morning will dominate Ohio weather the next two days and possibly over the weekend.
The threat of showers continued over southern Ohio, but is expected to end as the high pushes south.
Afternoon highs today and Friday were forecast from the middle 70s over Lake Erie to the low 80s in southern Ohio. Lows tonight should range from the upper 40s to 50s.
Fair and slightly warmer weather is forecast for the weekend.

FORECASTS
WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL, SOUTH-WEST, SOUTHEAST — Clearing and cooler tonight. Lows from the mid 50s to low 60s. Mostly sunny and little change in temperature Friday. Highs from the upper 70s to low 80s.

Garden Club
Schedules Tour

Members of Pickaway County Garden Club will meet at the home of Harford Renick, Route 3, 1 p.m. Tuesday. There they will tour his country garden, which features annuals in colonial design. After viewing the garden, they will proceed to the home of Miss Miriam Weaver, 465 Half Ave., Circleville. Miss Weaver's city garden is highlighted by a water lily pool with goldfish. The business meeting will be conducted there and refreshments served.

Seniors May Buy
Half Price Tickets

Senior citizens of Pickaway County may purchase tickets for the Ohio State Fair in the coliseum at Pickaway County Fair for half price.
The ticket booth is on the left at the front door of the building. Plans are underway for a bus to furnish transportation on Wednesday to Columbus.

WSCS Executives
Alter Meeting Date

Executive board of Women's Society of Christian Service of Community United Methodist Church will meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12 instead of this week as originally planned. The meeting to be held in the church parlor was changed due to the Pickaway County Fair.

Nixon To Visit Northeast States

BOSTON (AP) — President Nixon will make a weekend swing through Maine and primary-conscious New Hampshire, two U.S. senators said Wednesday.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said the President will fly to Manchester, N.H., shortly after noon Friday and later visit Maine.

The White House had no comment when asked about the visit.

Busing To Be Minimal, Nixon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disavowing his administration's action in an Austin, Tex., school desegregation case, President Nixon has promised Southern cities will stand for no more busing than "the minimum required by law."

Nixon found faulty under recent Supreme Court decisions a plan submitted by local officials and ordered into effect by a federal judge. And he said Tuesday his administration will not use those Supreme Court decisions to push for extensive busing of pupils to eliminate racial segregation.

In appealing the judge's ruling in the Austin case, Nixon said, the administration will back away from an alternative plan drawn up by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare requiring cross-town busing to achieve a racial balance in the city's schools.

Nixon also sought to ensure none of the $1.5 billion he seeks from Congress to ease the trauma of Southern school desegregation will be used to pay for busing-extensive or minimal. He said HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson has submitted to Congress an amendment "that will expressly prohibit the expenditure of any of those funds for busing."

Nixon's statement followed an announcement by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell that the Justice Department will appeal the July 19 ruling by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Jack B. Roberts in the Austin case.

Roberts rejected the HEW busing plan, favoring instead one drawn up by Austin school officials requiring only part-time integration.

The HEW plan was the first drawn up by the administration following the Supreme Court's ruling in April that busing is a permissible means of achieving school desegregation.

Nixon said in appealing Roberts' ruling, "The Justice Department will disavow the HEW plan on behalf of the government."

He pointedly added: "I have instructed the attorney general and the secretary of health, education and welfare that they are to work with individual school districts to hold busing to the minimum required by law."

Despite Nixon's antibusing stance and Mitchell's assertion that the appeal "was required because the order of the district court did not comply with prior decisions of higher courts," the action was attacked by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

It appears Nixon "does not really oppose forced busing or that he lacks the resolve necessary to control those who pursue it in his name." Tower cannot and will not support his action, and I condemn it as inappropriate, unnecessary and inconsistent with announced administration policy," the senator said.

The notice of appeal was filed with the district court in Austin, and it may be 30 days before the Justice Department submits a brief outlining its position to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Film Censorship Discussed By Lawyer Ephraim London

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Is movie censorship dead?

A resounding yes comes from civic critics who see what they consider "pornographic" films permitted public showing because of court trends toward more liberal views on "obscenity."

A qualified yes comes from Ephraim London one of the most prominent censorship lawyers in the nation.

"Censorship is not dead, not in that sense," says London, a tall, thin, distinguished-gray-haired gentleman who has won a number of key cases in the court-censorship wars. "There are still arrests for obscenity in many parts of the country," he says — "and probably convictions. But censorship of honest sexuality is dead. Anybody who bothers to appeal probably is going to win (in a higher court)."

"The courts now are considering obscenity more as an attitude of the producer than of the audience in considering the portrayal of sex."

London's qualifications are largely geographic, with mention of such cities as Cleveland, Detroit, Dallas and Fort Worth among those he considers toughest on "obscenity" arrests. In some cases, the arrests often are purely harassment with officials knowing the courts will eventually clear those involved of any legal wrongdoing.

London spoke of various aspects of movie censorship after the federal government dropped its case against the Swedish import, "Language of Love" a kind of cinematic A-B-C of sex which an appeals court judge said "purports to be an animated Little Golden Book of marital relations."

It was seized by U.S. Customs officials in New York in December, 1969 on charges of being "obscene and immoral." A jury upheld the seizure, but the U.S. Court of Appeals reversed the decision. Then the U.S. solicitor general took the case to the Supreme Court, where the case was dropped last June 13.

According to London, the results of the case mean that explicit depiction of sexuality and sexual arousal in a film no longer will be considered grounds for repressing a movie. The appeals court, in reversing the obscenity ruling, noted that "Language of Love," described as a sex education film, "may be characterized by greater explicitness . . . than other films of this genre but 'if the arousal of sexual appetite is equated with an appeal to prurient interest,' it might be necessary to hail into court our leading couturiers, perfumers and manufacturers of soft drinks soap suds and automobiles."

Despite no specific legal decision on the part of the Supreme Court, London sees the case setting a trend in that it accepts, he says, the rule that there is "nothing necessarily dirty about sex; nothing indecent about it."

The film was shown for several months in Europe — in Sweden, the Ministry of

VW Extends Warranties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Volkswagen of America has announced an extension of warranties on the cooling systems of some cars.

The Center for Auto Safety, which is financed by Consumers Union and is associated with Ralph Nader, had said chronic engine overheating could result from a newly discovered problem. The center described it as reversed orientation of air cooling levers.

Volkswagen said the condition develops "under extreme temperatures and load conditions, especially in air-conditioned vehicles."

The auto maker said it extended the cooling system warranty from normal 12,000 miles to 36,000 miles on the 180,000 Type III Volkswagens imported in 1968 and 1969. These include the square back and fast back models.

The center for Auto Safety had complained that Volkswagen informed its dealers of the warranty extension but not owners.

The film was shown for several months in Europe — in Sweden, the Ministry of Education permitted it to be shown to 11-year-old pupils — before being released here.

London said however the film will be restricted to viewing by adults over the age of 18. He noted the courts have recognized differing legal obscenity standards for children and adults.

The attorney, who figured prominently in film censorship cases involving "The Miracle," "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "491," among others, shrugged off the movie industry's ratings system.

"Legally they don't mean anything and in every other way they are a failure," he said of the system which attempts to guide parents as to which films children can see, should see with an adult or should be banned from seeing altogether

VW Extends Warranties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Volkswagen of America has announced an extension of warranties on the cooling systems of some cars.

The Center for Auto Safety, which is financed by Consumers Union and is associated with Ralph Nader, had said chronic engine overheating could result from a newly discovered problem. The center described it as reversed orientation of air cooling levers.

Volkswagen said the condition develops "under extreme temperatures and load conditions, especially in air-conditioned vehicles."

The auto maker said it extended the cooling system warranty from normal 12,000 miles to 36,000 miles on the 180,000 Type III Volkswagens imported in 1968 and 1969. These include the square back and fast back models.

The center for Auto Safety had complained that Volkswagen informed its dealers of the warranty extension but not owners.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hubby Should Pay Wife For 'Services'

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter signed "WEAK AND TEMPTED" from the man who was hooked on prostitutes. He claimed he was happily married and his wife lacked nothing in that department...

I agree with you, he needs a head doctor, but I have a better solution that could solve his problem and save his marriage. If he gets pleasure out of paying for his sex life, tell him to hand his wife the usual fee. She will be happy and he will be satisfied. Some people don't place any value on something unless they pay for it.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. READER
DEAR READER: That might solve HIS problem, but what if his wife prefers to maintain her amateur standing?

DEAR ABBY: Why are you so fair in everything else, but when it comes to the subject of OBESITY, you are completely without mercy?

A mother wrote she was "heartsick" because her 21-year-old son brought his 20-year-old fiancée home and she was fat!

Why didn't you tell that mother to encourage her son to stick with pride by the girl he loved, no matter what, even if she had one eye in the middle of her head? Instead, you recommended the mother get her son aside and instruct him to tell the girl she should do something about her weight while she was still young.

If I were that young man, I would be more concerned about my mamma's set of values than my girl's bulk.

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU
DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Aw, come on, now. No one can help being born with one eye in the middle of his head, but a girl who is so fat she can hardly fit into the largest chair in the room, and then eats as if there's no tomorrow has a problem. And someone who loves her should encourage her to solve it.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the heartsick mother whose son brought home a fat fiancée.

Some men prefer fat women. To them fat is beautiful. Mamma should leave her son alone. Some of the happiest marriages I know are those of thin men and fat, jolly wives. Heartsick mother should rejoice. Her son is getting at least twice as much woman!

CECILE
DEAR ABBY: Why didn't you tell "HEARTSICK MOM" to mind her own business when her son brought home a fat girl and introduced her as his fiancée?

That's the trouble with everybody today. All they care about is what a person looks like on the outside. So what if she didn't have a nice shape, maybe she's a wonderful person with a good heart. Besides, fat girls make the best wives. They are usually the best cooks and they know they can't get by on their looks so they try harder.

FAT AND MARRIED

GOOD OLD KEEPSAKES

"SMOKING declared to be an aid to digestion, a preserver of the teeth, and a prolonger of life," it was declared in an issue of a 1908 magazine without an ad for cigars, pipe tobacco, or cigarettes.

Nevertheless, it was regarded as bad manners for a gentleman to approach a lady, his wife, in the intimacy of their home, with his hair or clothes reeking of tobacco smoke. Hence conventional smoking caps such as this (!) and smoking jackets similarly ornamented with needlework, now collectors' items.

In addition to those examples of loving needlework by a lady, her handiwork was also worn (by obligation) close to his heart in the form of cigar-cases she had decorated. Also decorative bands from his cigars she had encased in some manner for his "den."

FRIDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES:
Today's Full Moon is a most dynamic one and if you want the best use from it, be sure that you do accept surprising conditions that arise in a philosophical manner and show others you are wide awake to the need for changes. Go along with them in an efficient and inspirational manner.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)
Others appreciate your finest qualities now and do their utmost to help you to progress in your line of endeavor. The social side of life can also be improved appreciably. Be more sure of yourself.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
Although higher-ups and fellow workers seem to be interfering with your advancement, it is only because you do not listen to their fine ideas. Cooperate more and success comes easier. Show kindness to kin instead of being so harsh.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
You can investigate new outlets that appeal to you and plan how to profit from them soon. Be idealistic and this will help you become more successful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)
You have to give money matters more attention if they are to be more satisfactory for you now. Try to build greater security for yourself. Think how to make family feel more secure and happier, also.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)
Get information that will help you have greater rapport with an associate who is most talented but unpredictable. Do not neglect that correspondence that is vital to your wellbeing at this time. Rest tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
Instead of breaking up present set-up, sit down and discuss matters with associates and all works to everyone's benefit. Planning the future more wisely is possible. You have excellent potentials — make use of them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
State your aims to good friends who can assist you in getting your projects working wisely. You have fine creative ideas that others will appreciate. Get the monetary backing you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
Try not to alienate those who mean a great deal to you either at home or in business. Safeguard your credit to avoid trouble. Don't lose your temper at home.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Study new projects to decide which ones can be put in operation that will not ruin whatever present good set-up you may have. You can get them off to a good start right now. Save a little time for fun tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
If you discuss your obligations with experts, you find you can then handle them with speed and efficiency. Know just what your true position is. Get those bills paid that are pressing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Discuss with an associate his ideas that have merit and state your own views wisely. If you act stubborn, you get poor results. Avoid trouble of all kinds in p.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
If you add an artistic touch to whatever work you are doing, you make a big impression which will help you. Get others' views regarding diet and you know how to improve your own. Become a stronger, happier person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those persons whose life under goes constant, careful changes, yet who seems to be so fixed in nature that it appears nothing is really changing. Such changes will always be for the better. Teach while young not to hang on to things and conditions after they have more than served their purpose and this life is most successful, especially where the government is concerned. Give a good academic education.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to You.

Paratroopers Search For Enemy Depots

SAIGON (AP) — Five thousand South Vietnamese paratroopers have moved into the jungles of War Zone D north-east of Saigon to check on North Vietnamese infiltration and search for enemy supply depots.

U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have not operated in strength in the vast enemy marshalling area for several months. "We think there might be some infiltration," said one senior U.S. adviser to the South Vietnamese.

U.S. field commanders say the withdrawal of 66,000 American troops from the provinces north of Saigon has left a big gap in the collection of intelligence. They acknowledge that they do not know what is going on in War Zone D or the extent of enemy infiltration across the Cambodian border even though U.S. forces have increased their aerial reconnaissance and sensor activity in the area.

War Zone D for years has been a staging area and base for enemy attacks on Saigon, Bien Hoa and other population centers.

The brigade of paratroopers, pulled out of reserve forces, moved into the jungles Sunday, but field commanders withheld disclosure of the operation until today for security reasons.

There have been no reports of significant contact.

South Vietnamese spokesmen say the purpose of the operation is to ward off enemy attacks during the National Assembly elections Aug. 29 and the presidential election Oct. 3.

Equitable Daily Interest

What it Means to you:

IT MEANS:

SAVE when you want to . . .

WITHDRAW when you want to . . .

And NEVER lose interest on passbook savings

DAY IN: YOU CAN DEPOSIT MONEY IN AN EQUITABLE FEDERAL PASSBOOK ACCOUNT ANY DAY OF THE MONTH, AND YOU START EARNING INTEREST THE SAME DAY

We've tossed out the OLD FASHIONED save-by-the-10th idea — which meant that you had to save by the 10th of the month in order to earn any interest that month. Equitable Federal realizes that you don't always have money to save at the beginning of the month — so we've made it possible for you to save according to your own financial schedule without ever losing interest.

DAY OUT: YOU ALSO MAY WITHDRAW MONEY FROM YOUR PASSBOOK ACCOUNT AT ANY TIME, AND EQUITABLE FEDERAL PAYS YOU INTEREST RIGHT UP TO THE DAY OF WITHDRAWAL.

Under the "Old Way" you waited until the end of the quarter to withdraw any money, because otherwise you earned no interest on those dollars. Interest was paid only on the money on deposit at interest distribution dates. Many financial institutions still follow this method. But at Equitable Federal, you don't have to wait. You can withdraw your savings — and earn full interest for every day we have your money.

YOU'LL EARN INTEREST FOR FIVE EXTRA DAYS EVERY YEAR.

Our computer figures the interest due you every day (365 days a year) . . . makes the necessary changes when you deposit or withdraw . . . stores all this information . . . and at the end of the quarter, prints the amount due you on your account record. At most other financial institutions you'll earn interest for only 360 days per year. Equitable Federal distributes interest payments at the end of each calendar quarter — March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31.

EXAMPLES OF HOW YOU EARN MORE UNDER OUR DAY-IN/DAY-OUT PLAN

- Saving from your second paycheck of the month, you deposit money on the 16th.
OUR DAY-IN/DAY-OUT PLAN — You will start earning interest on the 16th.
- THE OLD-FASHIONED WAY — You earn Nothing until the 1st of the next month.
- To pay a school tuition bill, you take money out on September 10th (between quarterly interest dates).
OUR DAY-IN/DAY-OUT PLAN — You earn interest on that money right up to September 10th.

THE OLD-FASHIONED WAY — You lose all interest for that quarter on the money you withdraw.

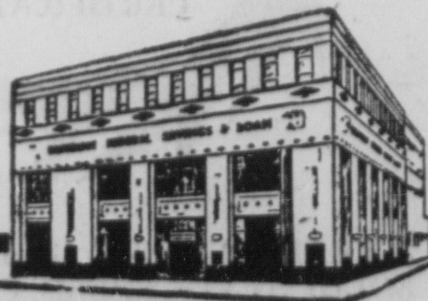

- You add to your account one day, with every expectation of leaving your addition on deposit. The very next day, a family emergency forces you to withdraw it.
OUR DAY-IN/DAY-OUT PLAN — You earn interest for the single day your money is on deposit with us.

Citizens Vote To Limit Height Of New Buildings

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Residents seeking to protect the smalltown air of this scenic Southern California tourist spot have won a fight against what they call "visual pollution."

Sixty per cent of the 8,000 registered voters turned up Tuesday, voting 3,707 to 1,213 to adopt a charter amendment limiting future building height to 36 feet.

A citizens group called Village Laguna proposed the measure saying large buildings in the seacoast town would constitute visual pollution.

Court OKs Highways Through Cemeteries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A suit questioning the constitutionality of an Ohio law that gives the Ohio Highway Department the right to build roads across cemeteries was dismissed in common pleas court Wednesday.

The Union Cemetery Association had tried in the suit to show the state had no right to initiate appropriation proceedings to build the Olentangy Expressway in Columbus over property owned by the association.

Ky Declared Out Of Race

SAIGON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky did not qualify as a candidate for the Oct. 3 presidential election.

The court ruled that there were only two qualified candidates—President Nguyen Van Thieu and retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh.

A communique from the court said it rejected Ky's petition because 39 of his 102 endorsements from provincial and municipal councilmen duplicated endorsements already given to Thieu and thus were invalid. A total of 100 certified signatures from councilmen, or 40 from members of the National Assembly, were required to qualify as a candidate.

The court said Thieu qualified with signatures of 452 councilmen and 104 endorsements from the National Assembly—15 senators and 89 lower house deputies.

Minh's petition carried the names of 27 deputies and 17 senators.

Will Urge More Relief For Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers plans to go to the United Nations personally to push for a more energetic international relief effort for East Pakistani refugees.

Aides said Rogers intends to meet Monday with U.N. Secretary General U Thant, U.N. relief officials and others about the international undertaking which U.S. authorities regard as too slow and too little.

President Nixon, at an impromptu news conference Wednesday, noted the $70 million already supplied by the United States for East Pakistani refugees in India is more than all other countries of the world have contributed.

Nixon also hit at a House-passed ban on U.S. aid to Pakistan. The restriction would cut out $118 million in economic-development assistance and $5 million in arms help earmarked for Pakistan in the administration's new foreign-aid bill.

Authors of the ban protest the Pakistani central government's drive to stamp out a rebellion in East Pakistan. They say holding back the funds would pressure the Pakistani government, led by West Pakistanis, to improve its treatment of the Eastern provinces.

Disputing this, Nixon said stopping aid to Pakistan would hurt the government's ability to distribute food in hungry East Pakistan. He said continuing U.S. assistance would allow Washington to influence the course of events better while "public pressure on the government of West Pakistan ... would be totally counterproductive."

Innocent Youth Freed After 21 Months

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Norman R. Mynatt, 19, of Cleveland, who spent 21 months in the Juvenile Detention Home and then the Cuyahoga County Jail for a slaying he did not commit, has been released from custody.

Common Pleas Judge Roy F. McMahon dismissed the first-degree murder charge against Mynatt Wednesday after Asst. Szeimer said he had statements indicating the youth did not take part in the Nov. 6, 1969, slaying of cab driver Stanley L. Green, 62.

Joseph DeLoach, 18, with whom Mynatt was riding in the cab at the time of the shooting, was sentenced Monday to the Ohio Penitentiary after pleading guilty to manslaughter in Green's death.

DeLoach also pleaded guilty

New Housing Commission Is Formed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen per cent of all Ohio housing is unsound and six per cent of all Ohio families live in overcrowded conditions, Gov. John J. Gilligan said Wednesday in announcing formation of a new state commission on housing and community development.

"This state is experiencing a housing crisis of unprecedented size and scope," Gilligan said at a news conference here. "Ohio today faces a housing gap of close to 500,000 units concentrated in the low-rent areas."

After noting the statistics on unsound and overcrowded housing, Gilligan said that "for blacks and the elderly, these percentages are double."

Gilligan said that Ohio was "the only state in the union with virtually no housing program" and added that the commission was expected "to submit our first set of housing proposals to the general assembly in 1972."

The governor said the committee was expected to operate "for some years."

The 34-member commission, headed by Cleveland attorney James I. Huston, will be aided by a paid staff of 10 being hired in Columbus. The commission members are not paid.

"It is my expectation that the commission's investigation and proposals will encompass all aspects of this complex field of inquiry — financial, technological, social, environmental and legal," he said. "I am further charging you (the commission) with the difficult duty not only of developing specific, workable solutions to the problems identified, but of seeing through to implementation the programs developed."

New Shoulder Patch

NEW YORK (AP) — The Police Department has adopted a gold and blue shoulder patch designed to make it easier to distinguish the 31,000 members of the city force from other policemen, such as housing or transit police and private patrolmen.

to two armed robbery charges. Mynatt, who grew from 4-foot-9 to 5-foot-9 during his confinement, had testified that DeLoach offered him a ride home in the cab and that when it stopped on the East Side, four blocks from the youths' homes, DeLoach pulled a gun and shot Green three times in the back. "I didn't even know he had a gun," Mynatt said. But DeLoach testified that Mynatt fired the fatal shots and a defense witness said he saw Mynatt run from the cab with a gun tucked under his belt.

A jury could not reach a decision in Mynatt's trial.

Szeimer, who recommended the charges against Mynatt be dropped, said he had statements from inmates of the detention home when DeLoach was there saying DeLoach bragged of the slaying and said "that if he had had more bullets left in his gun, he would have killed Norman Mynatt."

Szeimer also noted that Mynatt aided police in building three additional cases against DeLoach; two for armed robberies and one for grand larceny. The youth's attorneys also said that Mynatt helped police even though he had several threats against his life.

Mynatt appeared in court with a cast on his right hand, which was broken five weeks ago trying to fend off an attack by another inmate in jail.

"All I want to do now is lead an honest life," Mynatt said. His arrest on the murder charge is the only blot on his record. He was held in custody because bond is not granted in first-degree murder cases.

"This has really taught me a lesson," Mynatt said. "It has taught me to be more careful who I hang around with."

He said he would finish his high school education out of the city because he feared DeLoach friends.

Transportation Department For Ohio Said 'Essential'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan said Wednesday he believes creation of a state Department of Transportation is "essential" for development of future transportation policy.

"If you differ," he told his Transportation Advisory Commission, "let's hear about it and let's hear why."

Addressing the 62-member group for the first time, Gilligan said the unforeseen rapid development of transportation in the past 25 years has created a need for a comprehensive plan for all modes of transport and travel.

He said he hopes to have a transportation program ready for consideration "in the next session of the Legislature."

The governor urged the commission to begin seeking answers to key questions about the future of transportation in Ohio.

"What kind of rail transportation for goods do we expect to have in this state?" he asked.

"Where do we go after the interstate system? Do we really want a bridge across Lake Erie?"

The commission is made up of representatives from the administration, the General Assembly, federal and local agencies interested in transportation, related private business and members of the public.

"We want your talents and suggestions, and we want them now," Gilligan told the group. "We want your participation and involvement in this thing from its inception."

Ohio Liquor Sales Show Slight Gain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An experiment by the Ohio Liquor Department to try to recapture Ohio customers who apparently have been buying their booze in neighboring states appears to be showing results.

Director Richard Guggenheim said total sales increased after the state began selling liquor by the case at a 10 per cent discount.

An analysis of the July 1-15 period showed sales were $12.7 million, compared with $12.2 million for the same period in 1970, Guggenheim said.

Under the Nixon order, the SABC could decide after hearings whether any organization is totalitarian, fascist, communist, subversive, "or whether it has adopted a policy of unlawfully advocating the commission of acts of force or violence to deny others their rights."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., sought to restore an amendment forbidding use of the appropriation to implement Nixon's July 2 executive order.

"You can have under this executive order ... this board prying into every group whose views this board considers intellectually disturbing to the government," Ervin said.

"It is alien to the American system of government ... It reflects the spirit of McCarthyism ..."

Police identified the lead man as George Robert Ellis, about 30, of the Winton Terrace section.

Off-duty patrolman Roger Fogus, 25, and his wife Barbara, 23, said they discovered the pair in the apartment Wednesday afternoon. The woman ran and the man broke after using Mrs. Fogus as a shield.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Department of Agriculture cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat mostly 2-3 lower, 1.25-1.29, mostly 1.25 - 1.27; No 2 yellow corn mostly 2 lower, 1.18 - 1.27, mostly 1.18 - 1.20; No 2 oats 59-70, mostly 59-60; soybeans mostly 7-8 lower, 3.10 - 3.21, mostly 3.10-3.14.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After doing virtually nothing for months, the Subversive Activities Control Board has been voted a $450,000 budget and congressional clearance to wield broad new powers President Nixon wants it to have.

The bill was sent to President Nixon, who had issued an executive order granting new authority to the SABC, which has had almost nothing to do since the Supreme Court overruled its authority to hunt, register and publicize Communist organizations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After doing virtually nothing for months, the Subversive Activities Control Board has been voted a $450,000 budget and congressional clearance to wield broad new powers President Nixon wants it to have.

The SACB created most of the controversy Tuesday night as the Senate passed, 46 to 44, a $4.1-billion appropriation for the departments of State, Commerce and Justice.

The bill was sent to President Nixon, who had issued an executive order granting new authority to the SACB, which has had almost nothing to do since the Supreme Court overruled its authority to hunt, register and publicize Communist organizations.

Subversive Control Board Voted $450,000 Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — After doing virtually nothing for months, the Subversive Activities Control Board has been voted a $450,000 budget and congressional clearance to wield broad new powers President Nixon wants it to have.

The SACB created most of the controversy Tuesday night as the Senate passed, 46 to 44, a $4.1-billion appropriation for the departments of State, Commerce and Justice.

The bill was sent to President Nixon, who had issued an executive order granting new authority to the SACB, which has had almost nothing to do since the Supreme Court overruled its authority to hunt, register and publicize Communist organizations.

Under the Nixon order, the SACB could decide after hearings whether any organization is totalitarian, fascist, communist, subversive, "or whether it has adopted a policy of unlawfully advocating the commission of acts of force or violence to deny others their rights."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., sought to restore an amendment forbidding use of the appropriation to implement Nixon's July 2 executive order.

"You can have under this executive order... this board prying into every demonstration, prying into every group whose views this board considers intellectually disturbing to the government," Ervin said.

"It is alien to the American system of government... It reflects the spirit of McCarthyism..."

Police Seeking Burglary Suspect

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continued to seek a woman accomplice today in connection with the burglary of a Cincinnati policeman's apartment in which the officer shot a man to death as he ran from the building.

Police identified the lead man as George Robert Ellis, about 30, of the Winton Terrace section.

Off-duty patrolman Roger Fogus, 25, and his wife Barbara, 23, said they discovered the pair in the apartment Wednesday afternoon. The woman ran and the man broke after using Mrs. Fogus as a shield.

White House Says Journey Nonpolitical

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — President Nixon and his family fly to the Northeast Friday, with a brief stopover in New Hampshire and then a weekend of relaxation at a private island in Maine's Penobscot Bay.

Nixon's trip coincides with the appearance in New Hampshire, site of the nation's first presidential primary next year, of three potential Democratic presidential nominees and a challenger for the GOP nomination.

But the White House, in announcing the Nixon trip Wednesday night, attached no political significance to it. Accompanying the President will be his wife, Pat, and the Nixon's younger daughter and son-in-law, David and Julie Eisenhower.

The White House said the President will stop in Manchester and go to Nashua to visit a quadruple-deck Dick Chaud, who was named by the Jaycees in 1969 as one of the nation's 10 most outstanding young men. Nixon will return to Manchester by helicopter to tiny Mingot Island, owned by Jack J. Dreyfus Jr., senior partner in the New York investment house of Dreyfus & Co.

On the island are an eight-bedroom house, two cottages, a caretaker's house, a tennis court and a putting green. The President and his family will return to Washington Sunday evening.

New Hampshire Democrats have scheduled a picnic at Hollis Sunday which will draw Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, Birch Bayh of Indiana and George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

The first class of cadets at the Air Force Academy was graduated in June, 1959.

No One Injured In Air Collision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 707 jetliner with 96 persons aboard and a light plane collided Wednesday night seven miles east of International Airport, authorities said.

The Continental Airlines jet, en route from Hilo, Hawaii, landed safely and none aboard was injured, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said. The small plane crashed into a former city dump injuring its two occupants, apparently not seriously.

Arthur Wright, 25, Compton, Calif., pilot of the single-engine Cessna 150, told newsmen at Harbor General Hospital he permitted his passenger to take over controls of the craft just before the collision.

40 Killed In Belgian Train Crash

BELGRADE (AP) — At least 40 persons were reported killed and about 100 injured Wednesday night when a passenger train and a freight collided headon in a curve southeast of Belgrade.

The casualties were all aboard the passenger train, a six-car, short-haul motor train known as a rail bus.

The collision occurred less than 40 miles from Belgrade but in a remote area accessible to vehicular traffic only by rail. A special train with medical teams was sent to the scene and brought casualties to the nearest station, where ambulances collected them. But the first group of injured did not reach hospitals until nearly five hours after the crash.

Meanwhile, persons living nearby, the train crews and passengers who were not hurt did what they could for the injured.

Crews of both trains claimed that the signals on their route were open, giving them the go-ahead.

CHS Teacher To Attend Insurance Educator Seminar

A Circleville school teacher is among 31 teachers from 22 Ohio cities who have received scholarships to attend Ohio Insurance Institutes Educator Seminar on Risk and Insurance to be held on the Ohio State University campus in Columbus on August 11-13, 1971.

Peggy Dean, a teacher at Circleville High School, received the scholarship from the Celina Insurance Group, a member of OII. The scholarship covers the expenses of classroom instruction, instructional materials, food and lodging.

The seminar is being conducted by OII by the Continuing Education Division of OSU's College of Administrative Science.

The three day program will cover life, health, property and liability insurance areas. During the sessions each teacher will develop a course plan for introducing insurance into his specific curriculum.

The faculty will include Patrick L. Doyle, CPU-CLU, assistant to the president, Nationwide Insurance Companies; Peter R. Kensickil, assistant professor of finance, Ohio University, Athens; Kenneth R. Russell, CPCU, account executive, Turner-Shepard, Inc.; and these Ohio State University faculty members — Dr. David L. Bickelhaupt, CPU-CLU, professor of insurance and finance; Dr. H. Randolph Bobbitt, Jr., associate professor of management; and A. A. C. Williams, CPCU, director of insurance continuing education. Mr. Williams will serve also as director of the seminar.

Special speaker for an August 12 seminar banquet will be Mrs. Woody Hayes, wife of the head coach of Ohio State's football Buckeyes.

David Greeno won the boy's bicycle and Marian Dinguss was the winner of the girl's bike.

Cyclists Involved In Road Mishaps

Two motorcyclists received minor injuries in accidents investigated Wednesday by the Circleville Highway Patrol.

One of those injured was Jim Pribble, 20, Ashville, son of the local Highway Patrol post commander. Young Pribble suffered only a bruised foot when he successfully swerved out of the path of an oncoming vehicle.

Driver of the car, 25-year-old David C. Stevens, Columbus, reportedly stopped for the sign at the intersection of Route 732 and Circleville - Groveport Road and proceeded to pull out onto the highway. He was not cited.

In the second accident, the cyclist, a Columbus man, lost control of his bike on Route 104 in Franklin County and went off the roadway. He suffered light injuries for which he received treatment at Mercy Hospital, Columbus.

Decentralization

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Village near Lexington, the state's major institution for juvenile delinquents will close by 1973. Decentralization of such facilities will make the step possible.

Charge Congressman Abused Committee Chairmanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans say Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., misused his position as chairman of a House committee by single-handedly issuing a report citing the Bureau of Mines for negligence in the Hyden, Ky., coal mine explosion last December.

Minority members of a House Labor subcommittee say Perkins, chairman of the full Education and Labor Committee, violated House rules by releasing the report without consulting other committee members.

4-H Sewing Awards Given

Winners in the Home Economics Department of the Junior Fair were named Wednesday. Selections were made in eight different dress categories and three girls were picked to earn modeling awards.

Betty Joe Bolender topped the top prizes in two categories — one for her entry in the Active Sports division and the first place modeling award.

Other prizes were awarded in the following divisions:

School Dress I — 1. Cathy Milburn; 2. Diane Overly; Outstanding, Bonnie Bolender, Glena Ett, Mary Baum Tami Trego, Becky Ward, Bettie Roberts.

School Dress II — 1. Laurie May; 2. Julie Pabst; Outstanding, Jan Roberts, Kathy Litter.

Active Sports — 1. Betty Jo Bolender; 2. Karen Spangler; Outstanding, Sue Milburn, Kathy Uland.

Spectator Sports — 1. Jessie Hosler; 2. Ann Myers; Outstanding, Cynthia Palm, Nancy Schein, Karen Harmount, Mary Sweeney, Cindy Doersam, Kay Hooks, Donna Dowden.

Lounging Clothes — 1. Grace Engle; 2. Chris Hansen; Outstanding, Kelly Steinhauer, Diane Snyder.

Dress Up Outfit — 1. Shelley May; 2. Betty Brintlinger.

Tailored Clothes — 1. Diane Luckhart.

Formal Outfit — 1. Claire Hansen; 2. Grace Engle.

Modeling — 1. Betty Jo Bolender; 2. Beverly McDill; 3. Linda Carter.

A new version of the report, issued this week, includes Republican disagreement with Perkins' conclusions.

Thirty-eight miners died in the explosion Dec. 30, 1970, at a mine owned by the Finney Coal Co.

A document titled "A Report by the General Subcommittee on Labor" was released June 19 and carried Perkins' name on the cover.

Perkins' report concluded: "The committee would be derelict . . . if it did not acknowledge the glaring fact that the Bureau of Mines must bear a heavy burden on responsibility for the Hyden tragedy."

"Many of the miners killed looked hopefully but vainly to the bureau for closure or the imposition of safe working conditions in the mine."

Perkins now acknowledged the report was prepared under his direction as a "committee print" or draft for use by Democrats on the committee, and that no other members of the committee—Republicans or Democrats—were consulted.

The new report was issued after subcommittee member Rep. John N. Ellenborn, R-Ill., found the original version in his mail box.

"It was a purposely misleading fraud," Ellenborn said in a phone interview. "It can't have been a mistake to send it to newspapers since 1,000 copies were printed."

Herron's Barrow Wins

A barrow shown by Jim Bayes, Route 2, Orient, placed first in the foot judging of the open barrow show Sunday but was second when the carcass results were compiled.

Clyde Herron's barrow had the best cut out results although it was second in the judging Sunday.

Herron's animal had a dressing percentage of 61.57, a loin length of 30.6 inches, a back fat average measurement of 1.2 inches. Of the dress weight, 31.7 per cent was ham, 29 per cent loin and 29.2 per cent shoulder for an 89.9 total of the primal cuts. Loin eye measurement was 5.55 square inches.

In the hoof judging, H. M. Everhart's barrow was third, Don Martin's was fourth, Robert Kiser's was fifth, Warren Kinsell sixth and ninth, Walter Herron's was seventh, and Fred Dountz' was eighth.

Owners of the carcasses in order of placing after the first two and their dressing percentage were: Don Martin, 59.03, H. M. Everhart, 56.71, William Winter 53.74, Robert Kiser, 53.66, Warren Kinsell 53.44, Fred Dountz 53.42 and Walter Herron 53.11.

The hogs were slaughtered by Eckert Packing Company.

Mrs. Nixon Won't Go To Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has indicated his wife Pat will not be accompanying him when he makes his planned trip to Communist China.

The President said Wednesday he will be accompanied only by a "small working party," which as of now includes only Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser.

Any additions to the party, Nixon said, would have to be agreed upon mutually by Washington and Peking.

In talking with newsmen, Mrs. Nixon quipped: "While he goes there, I'll go to Ireland."

Meat Prices Still High Despite Record Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — An awesome consumer appetite for red meat, seemingly at any price, is keeping pace with record production and causing headaches for the government's retail-price watchers.

The Agriculture Department says food prices are rising a bit faster than earlier forecast but still expects grocery prices for all of 1971 to gain about 3 per cent, well below the 5.1-per-cent jump last year.

However, farmers have been turning out a record supply of beef and pork with little price benefit to consumers. A super-siz pig crop last year caused hog prices paid farmers to plummet last fall and winter.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says pork chops in June averaged $1.06 per pound at retail stores, compared with about $1.01 last January when the pork surplus was hitting the market. Last summer, before the farm price break, they were about $1.17 per pound.

Farmers are cutting back on hog production now and the outlook is for their prices to improve, meaning higher pork prices at stores.

Beef prices also are on the way up despite record-large cattle output. In June, hamburger cost 68.7 cents a pound, up more than two cents from a year earlier, the BLS said. Round steak averaged nearly $1.38 per pound, compared with less than $1.30 a year earlier.

Beef and pork account for most of the meat consumed by Americans. And meat takes around 30 per cent of a family's food budget.

The Agriculture Department said in a food-situation report issued Wednesday that supermarket food prices during the first three months of 1971 were up less than 1 per cent. But during April-June they jumped 2.5 per cent above a year earlier.

Looking ahead, the USDA says consumers may spend nearly $120 billion on all food this year, nearly 6 per cent more than in 1970. More people, an increase in per-capita meat consumption and higher prices will account for nearly all the rise.

A major factor in boosting food demand, particularly for meat, is an expected rise this year of around 8 per cent in consumer take-home pay. As paychecks grow larger, family spending for food seems to depend less on prices.

Senator Boss Needs Money

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Short, harassed with debts, says a solution must be found quickly if his Washington Senators are to remain in the nation's capital.

The club's financial plight was a highlight of talk among major league baseball executives who closed a two-day meeting Wednesday after discussing a variety of matters.

Such topics as rule changes, realignments, schedules, shorter spring training, player draft, etc., either were put back into committees for further study or logged for action at the winter meetings opening Nov. 29 in Phoenix.

After writing and singing songs, what can Al Fitzmorris do for an encore?

How about a two-hitter.

Fitzmorris, Kansas City's singing pitcher, hit the high note of his baseball career with a 3-0 waltz Wednesday over the heavy-hitting Minnesota Twins after the Royals won the opener of a two-night doubleheader, 2-1.

"This is the best game of my career—by far, the best," said Fitzmorris, who has done considerable song-writing and singing for several years during the off-season.

Fitzmorris was flirting with a no-hitter when Harmon Killebrew singled to lead off the seventh inning.

In the other American League games, the New York Yankees blasted the Cleveland Indians 7-3; the Detroit Tigers tripped the Washington Senators 2-1; the Baltimore Orioles topped the Boston Red Sox 5-4 in 10 innings in the opener of a two-night doubleheader before rain washed out the nightcap; the Chicago White Sox buried the California Angels 10-3 and

In spite of the rain and a wet track the Pickaway County Fair Speed Committee held its harness racing program Wednesday evening.

Hideaway Pat, owned by Harlow Arledge and driven by Jim Arledge, two Circleville horsemen, won both heats of the first race to boost its lifetime earnings to more than $99,500.

Jim Arledge, after trailing M.L.S., owned by R. L. and G. G. Osborn of Quaker City, most of the first heat, moved to the top after the three quarter pole and won by a length with a time of 2:12.1. M.L.S., driven by R. Gustina, was second, Lady Physician, owned and driven by Dave Gammell of Pataskala was third, Diamond Trenchan, owned and driven by Raymond Fiant was fourth and Irish Land, owned and driven by Arthur Ewing of Cardington was fifth.

Rounding out the eight horse field were Town Counsel, Walter Van and Stormy Flame.

IN the second heat Diamond Trenchan led most of the way, only to be nipped in the stretch by Hideaway Pat. Diamond Trenchan finished second but was placed because of a lapped on break at the wire and M.L.S. finished third but was placed second.

The rest of the field was Town Counsel fourth, Irish Land fifth, Lady Physician sixth and Walter Van eighth.

Abbe Hill, owned by Arthur and Franklin Mace of Circleville and driven by Franklin Mace, stood the best in the summary of both heats of the second race and was awarded the trophy blanket.

Abbe Hill was second behind Munequita, owned by R.L. and G. G. Osborn and driven by Gustina, who won the first race in 2:21.

But the locally owned horse came back to win the second heat in 2:12.3, finishing well ahead of the field.

In the first heat, Miss Beauty Queen, owned by Neil and Margie Frazier of Circleville and driven by Jim Pollock was third, Kelly S. was fourth and Willy Pay was fifth.

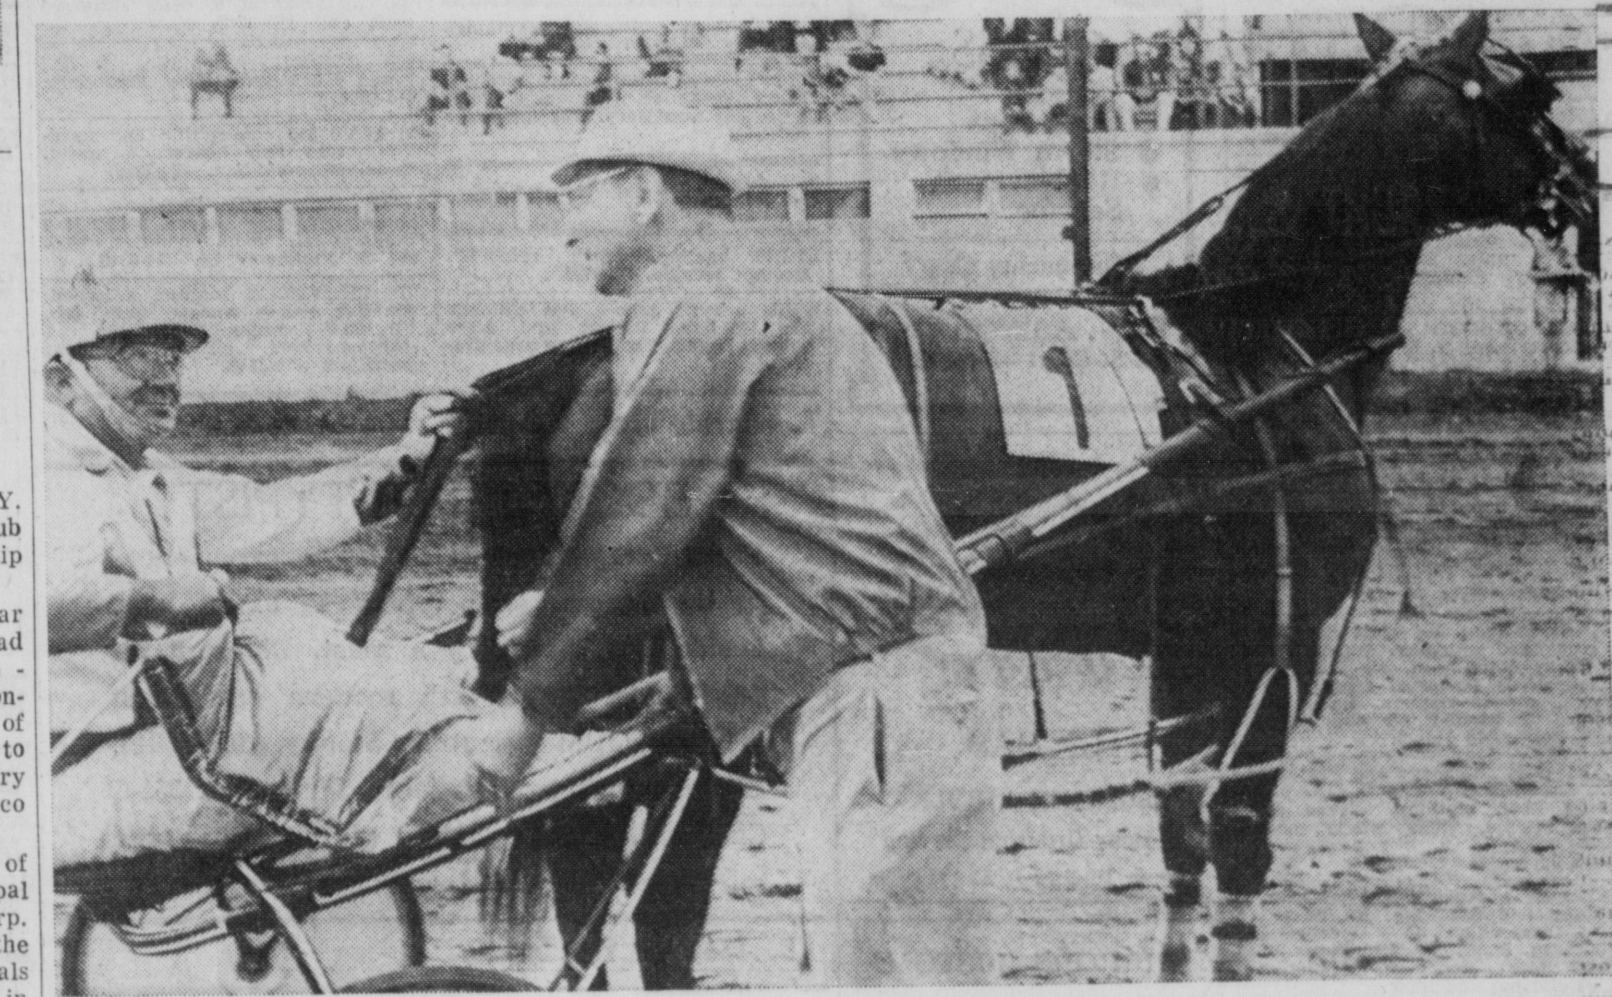

However, shortly after noon Harlow Arledge, a member of the speed committee, put a grader on the track, the mud was pushed aside and fresh sand donated by Sturm and Dillard Co. was spread.

THE track was in as good a shape as possible by race time and the speed committee of Arledge, John Fissell and Glenn McCoy were congratulated by presiding judge Bob Steele.

Steele is the general manager of Scioto Downs. Other officials at the race Wednesday were McCoy and Steve Jones, associate judges; Alva May, Neal M. Frazier and Charles Carle Sr., timers; Claire Baker, starter; Doug Ballinger, announcer; the Misses Ann and Sara Short, clerks.

Fissell plans to investigate the possibility of rescheduling the race rained out Tuesday during Pumpkin Show week.

Trophy blankets for yesterday's racing were donated by Tink's Tavern, Lindsey Baker Shop and the Savings Bank.

Astros Blank Dodgers, 2-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers forgot Ken Forsch once before, but they remember him now.

Forsch, a rookie right-hander, hurled a four-hitter for Houston Wednesday night, shutting out the Dodgers 2-0 and ending a five-game LA winning streak. It was the youngster's first major league shutout and it came against a team that once professed interest in Forsch—all of one phone call's worth.

Forsch, an outstanding pitcher at Oregon State, was drafted by the Astros in 1968. But before the draft, the Dodgers apparently were thinking about the youngster.

"The night before the draft, I got a phone call from somebody with the Dodgers," Forsch said. "They asked if I was interested and I said yes. That's the last I heard from them. Just one phone call, that's all."

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, Cincinnati shut out New York 1-0, Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 5-3, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3 in 11 innings, St. Louis downed San Francisco 7-2 and Chicago won two from San Diego, 6-4 in the completion of a suspended game and then 3-0 in the regularly scheduled contest.

Forsch, 6-5, struck out nine Dodgers and ended a personal four-game losing streak. He had not won since July 4.

The tall rookie was locked in a scoreless duel with veteran Al Downing until the sixth inning when the Astros struck for both their runs, ending a 21-inning scoreless streak.

Roger Metzger started the winning rally with a single and Joe Morgan worked Downing for the Astros' only walk. Jim Wynn sacrificed the runners along and Cesar Cedeno drilled a two-run single.

The loss cost the Dodgers a chance to pick up ground on San Francisco, the NL's Western Division leaders. The Giants fell victim to Bob Gibson's 200th career victory, bowing on a seven-hitter.

Ted Kubiak slugged a three-run homer for the Cardinals as Gibson beat San Francisco for the 10th consecutive time. Only two other active pitchers, Juan Marichal of the Giants and Philadelphia's Jim Bunning, have passed the 200-victory plateau.

Gary Sutherland drilled an 11th inning pinch single to move Montreal past Pittsburgh's Eastern Division leaders. Boots Day and Ron Brand had singled in front of Sutherland's deciding hit.

Bob Bailey drove in the Expos' first three runs with a sacrifice fly in the third inning and a bases-loaded single in the fifth. Manny Sanguillen homered for the Pirates.

Mike Lum's two-out, two-run single in the ninth inning gave Atlanta its victory over Philadelphia. Lum delivered his winning hit after the Braves had loaded the bases on a single by winning pitcher Mike McQueen and walks to Ralph Garr and Hank Aaron.

Felix Millan's two-run double had tied the game for Atlanta in the seventh after Roger Freed's two-run homer helped the Phillies build an early 2-0 lead.

Pete Rose's eighth inning double drove in the only run of the game and gave Cincinnati its victory over the Mets. Gary Nolan earned the victory with last-out help from Clay Carroll, besting New York's Gary Gentry, who had a career-high 11 strikesouts.

The Cubs completed a victory over San Diego in a game that was suspended after six innings on May 16 and then beat the Padres again in the regularly scheduled game. Ron Santo's two-run double in the fifth inning back in May turned out to be the deciding hit in the suspended game.

Then Milt Pappas scattered eight hits and shutout the Padres for his 12th victory of the year. Joe Pepitone stroked a single and double to lead the Cubs' attack.

"Rose guesses a lot with me and when he guesses right he hurts me," Gentry went on. "I was hoping he would hit a ground ball or that he would take for a ball. I wouldn't have thrown the curve to him again."

"I don't figure on striking him out because he's a defensive hitter," Gentry said. "I don't care if he gets a hit, but it tees me off that I walked the eighth-place hitter. You shouldn't walk him."

Woodward was the only Cincinnati player Gentry didn't fan in recording his career of 11 whiffs.

"I don't figure on striking him out because he's a defensive hitter," Gentry said. "I don't care if he gets a hit, but it tees me off that I walked the eighth-place hitter. You shouldn't walk him."

Nolan pitched a five-hitter, but was replaced by Carroll in the ninth after walking pinch-hitter Art Shamsky.

Nolan had survived a bases-loaded situation in the seventh by getting Gentry to line to left.

Senator Boss Needs Money

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Short, harassed with debts, says a solution must be found quickly if his Washington Senators are to remain in the nation's capital. The club's financial plight was a highlight of talk among major league baseball executives who closed a two-day meeting Wednesday after discussing a variety of matters. Such topics as rule changes, realignments, schedules, shorter spring training, player draft, etc., either were put back into committees for further study or logged for action at the winter meetings opening Nov. 29 in Phoenix. Short doesn't know if he'll be

Coody Leans Toward Jack As Favorite In Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Masters champion Charles Coody says no one will come close to Jack Nicklaus in the $150,000 American Golf Classic, if the Golden Bear is playing up to par.

"If Nicklaus is on his game, nobody else has a chance," said Coody before the 72-hole pro tour event began today over the Firestone South course, playing a long and wet 7,180 yards at par 70.

A field of 103, headed by defending champion Frank Beard, Arnold Palmer and Nicklaus, is shooting for $30,000 first-prize money.

Eight of the year's 10 leading money winners are here. Only No. 1 Lee Trevino, the U.S. and British Open champion, and No. 4 Gary Player are missing this week.

Host pro Bobby Nichols, 1964 PGA champion, shot 272 and finished second to Ray Floyd two years ago when Floyd fired a Classic record of 12-under-par 268. What about his own chances?

"I'm striking the ball well," Nicholas said. "I hope to do well, but sometimes you try too hard in front of your own folks."

Most pros think Firestone favors the big, powerful golfers like Tom Weiskopf, Palmer and Nicklaus, Nichols doesn't agree. "I don't say the long hitters

Gary Nolan Blanks Mets On Five Hits

NEW YORK (AP)— One of these days the New York Mets may stop their slide in the National League East.

The Mets ended a 6-8 home stand at Shea Stadium Wednesday by losing 1-0 to Cincinnati despite an 11-strikeout performance by Gary Gentry.

"We still haven't been able to put it all together, but one of these days maybe we will," commented Manager Gil Hodges. "That's what we need most and that's what I hope for as we start this trip. It doesn't sound that difficult."

For seven innings Gentry engaged in a scoreless pitching duel with Gary Nolan, despite a rain delay of 56 minutes in the third inning.

Gentry walked Woody Woodward to start the eighth. Nolan sacrificed him to second and he scored the only run of the game on a two-bagger by Pete Rose off the fence in right center.

The mets got two on with two out in the ninth, but reliever Clay Carroll induced Ken Boswell to ground out to end the game.

Woodward was the only Cincinnati player Gentry didn't fan in recording his career of 11 whiffs.

"I don't figure on striking him out because he's a defensive hitter," Gentry said. "I don't care if he gets a hit, but it tees me off that I walked the eighth-place hitter. You shouldn't walk him."

The Met right-hander went to say that if he hadn't walked Woodward he would not have thrown the curve that Rose whacked for the game-winning double.

"Rose guesses a lot with me and when he guesses right he hurts me," Gentry went on. "I was hoping he would hit a ground ball or that he would take for a ball. I wouldn't have thrown the curve to him again."

Nolan pitched a five-hitter, but was replaced by Carroll in the ninth after walking pinch-hitter Art Shamsky.

Nolan had survived a bases-loaded situation in the seventh by getting Gentry to line to left.

Three Big Racing Events On Tap At Scioto Downs

The biggest three nights of the year are on tap at Scioto Downs this Friday and Saturday and Tuesday.

Friday night, the traditional $6,000 Invitational Handicap Trot attracted six starters including Incentive, Mystic Boy, Doc McBean, Senior Mix, Paris Air and Flower Child.

Saturday night's attraction is the $6,000 Invitational Pace with starters, Little Dancer, Robert E. Adios, Batman, Ocean Mouth, Wingait Champion, Fantasy Girl and Cissy T. Adios.

Tuesday, the fifth Open House of the season will be held with free admission to both the grandstand and club house enclosures. During the evening, $2,500 in free cash will be given away.

In Friday's trotting feature, the early pre-race favorite role is up for grabs between Doc McBean, winner of seven of ten starts this year and Senior Mix, winner of three starts this year.

In Saturday night's pacing feature, only four percentage points separates the entire seven horse field in the early line. In last week's pacing classic with this same field, Little Dancer won in 1:59.3. Fantasy Girl won two weeks ago in 1:59.4. On June 19, Cissy T. Adios won in 1:59.3. On July 3, Wingait Champion won in 2:00. Ocean Mouth with a record of 1:59, Robert E. Adios with a record of 1:58.3 and Batman with a mile mark of 1:58, all have won this year, right at the two minute mark.

PROPOSED: THE IMPROVEMENT OF A PORTION OF STATE ROUTE NO. 674, SECTION 3.52, IN MADISON AND WALNUT TOWNSHIPS, PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO, AND IN BLOOM AND MADISON TOWNSHIPS, FAIRFIELD COUNTY, OHIO, FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE ROADWAY.
And being more fully described as follows:
Beginning at a point in the centerline of existing State Route No. 674, said point being at the intersection of State Route Nos. 732 and 674; thence northerly along existing State Route No. 674 a distance of 2.10 miles, more or less to a point and there terminate; said point of termination being the intersection of State Route No. 674 and Pickaway County Road No. 80 known as Marcy Road and having a total length of 2.10 miles, more or less.
At this hearing, maps showing the proposed changes to the highway system will be made available to the public. The Relocation Assistance Program will be discussed. Alternative locations, designs and environmental factors will be presented. Tentative schedules for Right-of-Way acquisition and construction will be discussed.
Maps, drawings, environmental factors and other pertinent information developed by the Highway Department, and any written comments received as a result of coordination with State Resources, Recreation and Planning Agencies, Federal Agencies, Local Public Officials and Agencies and Public Advisory Groups, shall be made available to the public for viewing and copying at the Highway Department's Division Six Office, 400 East William Street in Delaware, Ohio.
Anyone wishing to submit a written statement or exhibit concerning this project may do so by presenting it at the hearing or mailing it to the Ohio Department of Highways, Division Six, Deputy Director, 400 East William Street, Delaware, Ohio. The final date of submission of statements will be August 23, 1971.

Mickey Lolich notched his 17th victory, striking out 14, as Detroit stopped Washington. Al Kaline tripled and scored the first run in the first, then homered in the third for the winning tally.

Merv Rettenmund's 10th-inning single—his fourth hit of the game—chased home Baltimore's winning run as the Orioles rallied for a victory over Boston, the runnerup team in the American League East. The victory boosted Baltimore's lead to 5½ games over the Red Sox.

Rich McKinney drove in two runs as Chicago scored six in the first two innings and kayoed California ace Andy Messersmith. Tommy John went the route for the White Sox despite giving up 12 hits.

Sal Bando hit a grand slam homer and Reggie Jackson also connected with a solo blast to power Oakland over Milwaukee.

Thomas Sent Back To Cowboys

By EARL GERHEIM
Associated Press Sports Writer
Controversial running back Duane Thomas, the fleet-footed ace who led the Dallas Cowboys in rushing last season, has covered a lot of ground this past week but doesn't seem to have made any headway.

Thomas was traded by the Cowboys to the New England Patriots last weekend after he tossed several verbal barbs at Dallas management and requested that he be swapped. Under terms of the transaction, New England sent halfback Carl Garrett and the Patriots' No. 1 draft pick next year to Dallas and also received line-man Halvor Hagen and wide receiver Honor Jackson from the Cowboys.

Dallas Presiden Tex Schramm, who has been a target of Thomas' fiery criticism, announced Wednesday that part of the deal had been cancelled. Thomas was coming back to Dallas, Garrett was returning to the Patriots and New England could keep Hagen and Johnson in exchange for two undisclosed draft choices, he said.

Thomas deserted the Patriots training camp Monday. Schramm said the cancellation had been prompted by questions raised about Thomas' condition by the New England team physician.
The Patriots issued a statement which said:
"The Patriots team physician, in the course of his physical examination of Duane Thomas when he arrived at training camp, developed certain questions concerning Thomas' general condition." The team neglected to elaborate but said, "These concerns were confirmed in the brief practice that followed. Mr. Thomas has since withdrawn from training camp after declining to complete his physical examination."

Colombian Runner Set For Marathon

CALI, Colombia (AP)—Adored distance runner Alvaro Mejias can light a fuse to ignite all of Colombia today, no matter if U.S. track and field heroes virtually have clinched the Pan American Games for Uncle Sam.

"Alvaro, Alvaro," the voices of Cali will chant as the lithe, 145-pound Mejias strains to win the gruelling Pan Am marathon for the host country.

Mejias whipped a thundering herd of 887 runners in April to win the fabled Boston Marathon and excite his countrymen for today's grind for a Pan Am gold medal.

The 5-foot-10 Mejias, a man of 30 with mustache and rippling muscles, is married to former USA Olympic swimmer Terri Stickle.

While Alvaro runs for Colombia, the talent-deep Americans are continuing to jam their war chest with gold medals with swimming—a Yankee favorite—ready to begin Friday.

The USA has 36 golds, 26 silver medals and 16 bronze for a total of 78 medals. Cuba's red tide was beginning to be stemmed as Castro's troops hit 50 medallions including 12 golds, 26 silvers and 12 bronze.

Canada is a distant third with 5-15 for an aggregate of 25 medals.

Track and field ends today and with only a few events on schedule the United States had won 16 of 18 men's tests, setting nine Pan Am records.

USA girls have three golds in nine events including two records. Lynn Graham, a 230-pound Fresno, Calif., giant, heaved the shot put an incredible 51-8½ Wednesday night.

Three Big Racing Events On Tap At Scioto Downs

The biggest three nights of the year are on tap at Scioto Downs this Friday and Saturday and Tuesday.

Friday night, the traditional $8,000 Invitational Handicap Trot attracted six starters including Incentive, Mystic Boy, Doc McBean, Senior Mix, Paris Air and Flower Child.

Saturday night's attraction is the $8,000 Invitational Pace with starters, Little Dancer, Robert E. Adios, Batman, Ocean Mouth, Wingait Champion, Fantasy Girl and Cissy T. Adios.

Tuesday, the fifth Open House of the season will be held with free admission to both the grandstand and club house enclosures. During the evening, $2,500 in free cash will be given away.

In Friday's trotting feature, the early pre-race favorite role is up for grabs between Doc McBean, winner of seven of ten starts this year and Senior Mix, winner of three starts this year.

In Saturday night's pacing feature, only four percentage points separates the entire seven horse field in the early line. In last week's pacing classic with this same field, Little Dancer won in 1:59.3. Fantasy Girl won two weeks ago in 1:59.4. On June 19, Cissy T. Adios won in 1:59.3. On July 3, Wingait Champion won in 2:00. Ocean Mouth with a record of 1:58.3 and Batman with a mile mark of 1:58, all have won this year, right at the two minute mark.

Spacewalk Highlights Apollo's Journey

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronaut Alfred M. Worden stepped out of the streaking Apollo 15 spacecraft nearly 200,000 miles from earth today to make man's first walk in deep space.

Bundled in a stiff pressure suit and attached to a 25-foot lifeline, Worden eased out of the open hatch of the command ship endeavour for a hand-over-hand trip about 15 feet to an equipment bay at the rear of the spacecraft to retrieve two film canisters.

The canisters contain nearly two miles of high resolution film covering nearly 20 per cent of the lunar surface, including what are expected to be the best pictures yet of the hidden backside.

Earlier, the astronauts canceled a course change maneuver because Apollo 15 was on an accurate course as it sped back toward the earth.

With the hatch open, David R. Scott and James B. Irwin also wore pressure suits as protection against the vacuum of space. Irwin was to emerge partially from the spacecraft to assist Worden.

Worden's stroll is necessary because the bay is jettisoned before re-entry and does not return to earth with the astronauts.

The spacemen concluded man's greatest lunar expedition late Wednesday when they fired the Endeavour out of moon orbit on a near-perfect course that will carry them to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean 285 miles north of Hawaii at 4:46 p.m. Saturday.

formed of any such plan, nor has the U.S. participated in negotiating a plan such as suggested in the Swedish newspaper.

Xun Thuy, North Vietnam's chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks, called the reports "excessive imagination," while Trung Gia Nhan, an attache at the North Vietnamese Embassy in Stockholm, termed the report a "fabrication" and said it was "totally unfounded."

Thuy, speaking to newsmen as he entered the 124th session of the peace talks, said unless President Nixon accepts the Communists' peace plan "the list of captured military men, far from becoming shorter will only lengthen."

U.S. military authorities in West Germany said they had not heard of any plan to fly 187 American prisoners of war out of Vientiane on an SAS charter jet.

Wednesday, before the airline's report, Nixon told a news conference that the United States was "very actively pursuing negotiations on Vietnam in established channels," never mentioning, however, specific efforts to gain the release of U.S. prisoners.

Nevertheless the SAS spokesman said his airline was "just awaiting a call from the Americans saying they are ready for signing a contract."

"When?" he was asked. "Today, tomorrow or the day after tomorrow," he replied.

The officer in charge of prisoner affairs at the U.S. Embassy in the Laotian capital, Richard Rand, refused to comment on the SAS report, but added: "This office is not aware of any specific discussions with regard to these 187 prisoners."

A television camera is mounted outside to relay pictures to earth as Worden moves into a silent, weightless world which has been braved previously by only nine men—six Americans and three Russians. All were in earth orbit.

In addition, eight Americans now have walked on the moon, which has a gravity field one-sixth that of earth's.

Worden's stroll is necessary because the bay is jettisoned before re-entry and does not return to earth with the astronauts.

Scientists here are eagerly awaiting the approximately 175 pounds of rocks Scott and Irwin gathered during three days on the moon.

Before heading for home, Apollo 15 ejected into lunar orbit a 78.5-pound science satellite intended to send back data for at least a year on the precise shape of the moon and on magnetic, gravity and electrical fields.

"Tally-ho," Scott called out as the payload was spring-ejected from the same bay that carries the mapping cameras. "That's a very pretty satellite out there. It seems to be rotating quite well. Very stable."

Earth stations immediately began receiving strong signals from the new lunar explorer.

Apollo 15 was on its 74th orbit of the moon. As the astronauts were about to whip around the backside, out of radio contact, for the last time, capsule communicator Joseph Allen told them:

"Set your sails for home. We're predicting good weather, a strong tail wind and we'll be waiting on the dock."

A two-minute rocket firing behind the moon added nearly 3,000 miles an hour to the spaceship's speed and it broke out of the grasp of lunar gravity.

"Endeavour's on the way home," mission commander Scott reported as the ship came around the moon. "What a smooth burn that was."

As Apollo 15 pulled away, Scott commented: "We're almost speechless looking at this thing. It's amazing. Looks like we're going straight up and we're leaving. There's no doubt about that."
